BRICS: India, Brazil push back against China

The two countries have raised serious objections in the preparatory talks for the Johannesburg summit next month, says a Bloomberg report. Dozens of nations, including Indonesia and Saudi Arabia, are in line to join the alliance, which China wants to grow as a counterweight to the US and the EU. Brazil wants to avoid expansion because of these worries, while India wants strict rules on how and when other nations could move closer to the group.

After five years, two activists get bail in Elgar case

SC bench grants relief to Vernon Gonsalves and Arun Ferreira who were arrested in 2018

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

Vernon Gonsalves (L) and Arun Ferreira

THE Supreme Court on Friday granted bail to civil rights activists Vernon Gonsalves and Arun Ferreira, who have been under arrest since 2018 in the Elgar Parishad-Bhima Koregaon violence case.

A bench of justices Aniruddha Bose and Sudhanshu Dhulia said although the "allegations against them were serious", that cannot be the sole ground to justify their continued detention pending trial.

The court in the 54-page verdict authored by Justice Bose, said mere possession of literature, even if the content thereof inspires or propagates violence, by itself cannot constitute any of the offences under UAPA.

"In the case of the appellants, contents of the letters through which the appellants are sought to be implicated are in the nature of hearsay evidence, recovered from co-accused. Moreover, no covert or overt terrorist act has been attributed to the appellants in these letters, or any other material forming part of records of these two appeals. Reference to the activities of the accused are in the nature of ideological propagation and allegations of recruitment. No evidence of any of the persons who are alleged to have been recruited or have joined this "struggle" inspired by the appellants has been brought before us. Thus, we are unable to accept NIA's contention that the appellants have committed the offence relating to support given to a terrorist organisation," the bench said.

The court directed their release subject to the imposition of conditions by the NIA trial court. Additionally they have been directed to surrender their passports with the NIA and inform the investigating officer about their addresses and mobile phone numbers. It allowed them to have one mobile phone each but asked them to keep them charged and their location status active 24x7 besides pairing them with the NIA's investigating officer.

4,000 CRECHES FOR KIDS OF MGNREGA WORKERS

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

THE state government is all set to open 4,000 "Koosina Mane" creches for children of young mothers who work under Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) across the state this year. The Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) Department will open the creches.

Para 15 of Schedule II of MGNREGA says priority will be given to women workers. At least one-third of the beneficiaries will be women who have registered and requested for work. Efforts to increase participation of single mothers and physically challenged women will be made.

More than 50% of the workforce under MGNREGA schemes are women, with most of them young and single mothers who have to take care of their children aged upto six. Hence, the government has decided to open the creches.

RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge said till now, children of women working under MGNREGA schemes were provided with amenities such as drinking water and shelter at project sites. Henceforth, creches will be opened at such sites.

"We will ensure a better place for these children. One of the working women will take care of children, for which she will be paid," he said.

Healthy food will be given to children at the creches. "The creches will help children join school when they turn six," the minister said. In Karnataka, there are over 6,000 gram panchayats. In his budget, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah announced to start childcare centres at gram panchayats.

RS adjourned as Dhankhar, O'Brien spar

THE Rajya Sabha witnessed dramatic scenes on Friday as Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar and Trinamool Congress leader Derek O'Brien were locked in a war of words over non-admission of notices given by Opposition members under Rule 267 to discuss the volatile Manipur situation.

Dhankhar was repeatedly interrupted by O'Brien who thumped the desk to make his point, which prompted the Chairman to adjourn the House abrutply. An upset Dhankhar termed the Trinamool MP's behaviour 'theatrics' that will not be tolerated. "We can't suffer this," he said while adjourning the proceedings for the day.

A total of 47 Opposition MPs had given notices under Rule 267, which allows suspension of listed business to debate an issue of importance. None of the notices was accepted.

"Every day, including the last session and the session before that, we had a number of notices under Rule 267. If I go into the precedence, in this century, in the last 23 years, the House is aware how many notices have been admitted," he said.

After reading out the names of the 47 MPs who had given Rule 267 notices, Dhankhar said he has already agreed to a short-duration discussion (up to 2.5 hours) under Rule 176 and asked members to rise above partisan interests and discuss the matter under that rule.

Protocol breach: Plaint filed against AirAsia

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

RAJ Bhavan filed a complaint with KIA police on Thursday against AirAsia India staff after they did not allow Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot to board a flight to Hyderabad.

According to sources, AirAsia has launched an internal investigation into protocol violation. TNIE was the only newspaper to report this unprecedented protocol violation.

In the complaint, governor's protocol officer M Venugopal sought appropriate legal action against AirAsia India, its ground handling staffer Areefulla and airline's Bengaluru manager Zico Swaris for obstructing Gehlot from carrying out his duty as well as violation of protocol.

The governor was to leave for Ranchi from Hyderabad to take part in the 12th convocation of Ranchi Agricultural University.

The complaint referred to the ill-treatment meted out to the governor at the airport and stated that he left Raj Bhavan at 1.10 pm and reached the airport at 1.35 pm for the 2.05 pm flight to Hyderabad. "He reached the VIP lounge of Terminal 1. Guest relations assistant Samskruti was contacted to alert her about his arrival and facilitate his movement to Terminal 2," it said.

The ADC (aides de camp) to the governor and Gehlot reached the step ladder of the aircraft at 2.06 pm.

The aircraft door was still open but Areefulla did not allow him to board the flight.

His luggage was brought down from the aircraft and the flight stood there for 10 minutes. P2

Never seen Guv treated in such fashion, says official

Protocol officer says AirAsia has apologised for breach

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE ill-treatment meted out to Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot by the staff of a private airliner at KIA on Thursday afternoon has upset top officials at Raj Bhavan.

"I have completed a decade at Raj Bhavan and have served three governors as protocol officer. I never saw the constitutional head treated in such a fashion," M Venugopal, protocol officer at Raj Bhavan, told The New Indian Express.

He was an eyewitness to the entire episode on the tarmac at Terminal 2 of KIA. AirAsia India officials visited the governor's office and apologised for the goof-up on behalf of their staff. "They conceded that they violated the protocol they were supposed to follow," Venugopal said.

Narrating the sequence of events that unfolded since Thursday morning, the officer said the governor was originally booked to travel by a Star Air flight which was to take off at 9am.

"However, since he arrived here late from Indore the previous night (Wednesday), it was decided to cancel the morning flight and book an afternoon flight. We decided to book AirAsia India's 2.05pm flight. Right from booking the ticket, our team was constantly in touch with the airline staff in connection with the governor's travel," Venugopal said. The airline was alerted about the governor's arrival at KIA at 1.35pm. "The governor never goes late and he was there 40 minutes before take off," he said. The governor is exempted from frisking.

"As per protocol, VIPs are called by the airline to board the flight only after the last passenger is in. We were alerted by ground handler Areefulla that the last shuttle bus with passengers had reached the aircraft for boarding before we could arrive. The convoy of vehicles along with the governor took maybe 8 minutes to reach the aircraft. When the governor alighted from his car in front of the aircraft, it was 2.06pm. CCTV camera footage confirms this. The aircraft door was still open," he said.

The entire team was taken aback when the governor was told by Areefulla that he could not enter the flight when he was standing near the step ladder.

"We said the governor is the first citizen of the state and constitutional head and could not be treated like this. We asked Areefulla to contact his manager at the airport (Zico Swaris). He too denied. It was a shock to us as the airline staff were completely aware of the governor's travel. It is a violation of protocol as there is a list of 33 categories of VIPs for whom flights are supposed to wait. The governor is fourth on that list," Venugopal said.

Airline starts probe into goof-up at KIA

"THE first citizen of Karnataka was forced to return to the VIP lounge without boarding his flight," the complaint stated.

An AIX Connect (AirAsia India) spokesperson, in a statement on Friday, said, "We sincerely regret the incident. An investigation is being conducted and appropriate action will be taken. The senior leadership team of the airline is in contact with the governor's office to address the concerns. Our commitment to the highest standards of professionalism and adherence to protocol remain unwavering, and we deeply value our relationship with the governor's office."

On what action will be taken based on the complaint, a source said there is no specific section in Indian law under which a case can be booked for protocol violation. For obstruction of duty, a private case can be filed under Section 195 of CrPC.

Bank of Baroda announces fixed RoI on car loans

Bank of Baroda, a public sector bank, on Friday announced the introduction of a fixed rate of interest on Baroda car loans. Borrowers now have the option of choosing between fixed and floating rate of interest on Baroda Car Loans. The fixed rate of interest is pegged to the Bank's one-year MCLR and is applicable for purchase of a new car, including electric vehicles. The interest rate, which is linked to a borrower's credit profile, will remain unchanged during the entire tenure of the loan. Further, the interest on car loans (fixed and floating) is calculated on the daily reducing balance method as against the more prevalent monthly reducing balance method, making it more attractive for borrowers. Applicants can apply for the loan on the bank's website or mobile app. ENS

Ministers, experts call for progressive edu policy in state instead of NEP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

Higher Education Minister MC Sudhakar (second from left) Primary and Secondary Education Minister Madhu Bangarappa (fourth) and experts at the education conference in Bengaluru on Friday | EXPRESS

THE education ministers and experts from Karnataka came out strongly against the National Education Policy (NEP), which was launched by the Union government in 2020. While Primary and Secondary Education Minister Madhu Bangarappa termed the policy a threat to equality and quality of education, his higher education counterpart MC Sudhakar said NEP was just a copy of the Western education system.

At an education convention organised by the All India Save Education Committee, Karnataka, (AISEC) here on Friday, Bangarappa said Karnataka will implement a propeople policy for education. "The government will strive to formulate a right and just education policy. The state will take recommendations and guidance from progressive education experts in the state," the minister added.

Sudhakar pointed out that the policy was implemented without any preparation and it had an "underlined agenda". "The central government did not consider 33% of children who hail from the scheduled caste communities and close to 50% from minority communities," he said.

He added that there was a need to transform Anganwadis into pre-schools and improve access to and the standard of the state's education system.

"The BJP government violated all principles and ethics while implementing NEP 2020. There was no discourse, expert recommendations or a democratic parliamentary enactment of the policy," said Social Welfare Minister HC Mahadevappa. He stressed on the need to "devise a progressive and scientific education policy that helps mould good character and strong personality in students."

Several education experts such as UGC former chairman Prof Sukhdeo Thorat opined that NEP was implemented hurriedly and formulated for the privilege of a few. They called for the state education policy based on equality, fraternity and socialistic values.

Rajashekhar V N, Vice-President, ASIEC, said, "Textbooks should not become political tools and should be medium of dispersing real knowledge which is free from unscientific views."

Another expert added that recruitment of qualified teachers should be taken up and regularising services of guest teachers can strengthen public education in the state.

The Hunasamaranahalli Lake near Kempegowda International Airport was recently rejuvenated by Lowe's India, a home improvement company. The lake is home to migratory birds, fishes, snakes and turtles. However, due to infrastructure development in the area, the lake witnessed soil erosion, reduced water retention capacity and garbage accumulation. Lowe's India took over the project in 2022 in partnership with Oasis Foundation and HandsonCSR. The lake was desilted, bunds were added around the lake and 1,000 saplings were planted. A new walking and cycling path along the lake's perimeter was constructed. The lake was re-opened by Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda on Thursday. ENS

Turn 'Waste to Best' for a sustainable future

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

ADVISOR to the United Nations, Dr Chitra Rajan, on Friday said innovative thinking can turn seemingly useless materials into assets for a sustainable future.

She was speaking at a National Conference on Sustainable Development Challenges and Strategies for the Indian Economy and Business organised by the Malleswaram Ladies Association Academy of Higher Learning. "Innovations could drive the change we need to tackle pressing environmental challenges. There are many ways of turning waste into valuable products, like the use of pineapple waste towards making handbags, or sugarcane waste to make many resourceful products. Innovative thinking can turn seemingly useless material into assets for a sustainable future," she said.

She also said the younger generation needs to focus on embracing entrepreneurship, especially in the field of renewable energy. "Dynamic energy and fresh perspectives of youths are vital in driving the nation's sustainable growth," she said.

CMA Ravindranath Kaushik, chairman of Institute of Cost Accountants of India, also highlighted the importance of 'social' auditing on evaluating and improving on an organisation's effects on society.

"This approach encourages businesses to assess their impact on society and the environment, fostering transparency and accountability in corporate practices," he said.

The conference focused on pushing forward the theme of 'Waste to Best' as well as encouraging youth entrepreneurship. There were also presentations of several research papers on sustainable development by industry experts.

Forecasting is a complicated and uncertain business, but one thing we can say is that the future has to be better than the past. That's my philosophy and I'm sticking to it. If some people want to predict doom and gloom, I don't want to know!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon sails smoothly through your solar chart, reminding you of the need to cope with everything that is fundamental to your existence. Quite simply, it's time to deal with all outstanding domestic issues, getting ahead, and perhaps taking someone who has become distant into your confidence.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
There is still some leeway in romantic and social affairs, but not much. A good approach for you is to be optimistic and explain to partners just how much better life could be if only they saw things the way you do! Mind you, is it really a good thing for others to agree with you? A few differences of opinion might be more constructive.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
The best advice is to take some time off and go shopping. It is a strange but wonderful fact that treating yourself to a few luxuries can lift your morale and take your mind off emotional muddles. Also, have you thought that you might have misjudged someone?

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
In any ordinary circumstances the fact that the Moon is supporting your sign should give you much greater control over your emotions, and other people's, come to that. However, these are not ordinary circumstances, and fate is set to take a hand.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
You may be unusually reticent today. That is, you might still be able to present yourself to others as an outgoing and confident individual, but inside you'll wonder just what on earth is happening, and you'll treasure a chance to spend a little time alone.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your social stars are so strong that it would be a crying shame if you didn't take the initiative, and a greater shame if friends failed to heed your suggestions. Good conversation, even a spirited argument, should form the centrepiece of your day!

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It's certainly an excellent moment for all professional individuals to plan their next step. The underlying psychological pattern reveals a need for recognition in your community and praise from your peers. But that's something you need to work for!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Mercury forms a sensitive relationship with Pluto, planet of truth, an emotional pattern which forces you to take final decisions. If you should feel a strange sense of recognition, it's because, personally speaking, you have indeed been here before.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Business matters take a forward leap, even though it seems as if you may be unaware of the strength of your position. You may look to other people to provide an element of security and stability that you feel is lacking. You may also encourage others to make a move that they've been putting off for too long.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You really have little choice but to listen to other people, and you might even have to swallow your pride and do what they tell you. In no way will this detract from the potential pleasure you may derive from today's intense social encounters.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
It's an emotional moment, and you are eager to do your best. Work hard, play hard seems to be the message. The words of caution for today are first to avoid over-straining yourself and secondly to be very wary of those in authority: don't overstep the mark.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You're in a state of some flux. Social affairs seem to be taking a step forward, professional concerns a step back. Neither is inherently difficult nor easy, and both call on you to change your ingrained attitudes. It won't be simple to draw a veil over the past, but it may be necessary.

K’TAKA TO VACCINATE RISK GROUPS FOR HEPATITIS B

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

WITH hepatitis B and C being the most concerning types, the state Health Department plans to vaccinate high-risk groups, like sex workers, sexual minority groups, prison inmates, intravenous drug users and healthcare workers, for hepatitis B as a preventive measure.

Dr Shashikala N, deputy director and state nodal officer of the National Viral Hepatitis Control Programme, said, “Hepatitis B and C are transmitted through blood, blood products and sexual routes too. Despite regular screening of all blood donors and pregnant mothers, we are also targeting high-risk groups to ensure early identification of people.” In 2022-23, under the state’s initiative, 2.43 lakh people were screened for hepatitis B and of them 6,682 tested positive. Of the 85,000 people tested for hepatitis C, 868 tested positive.

On the World Hepatitis Day on July 28, Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao said it is necessary to create awareness among youth by including health education in students’ curriculum. Liver performs around 500 functions and needs to be given more importance. One per cent of three crore Indians suffering from hepatitis are from Karnataka. Efforts are being taken to make the state hepatitis C free by 2030, he added. Dr Ravi Kiran SK, consultant (hepatology and liver transplantation), Narayana Health City, explained that though no vaccine is available for hepatitis C, it can be treated well within 12 weeks if diagnosed early. It is important to ensure the liver does not harden which can cause scarring of liver leading to cirrhosis. A person suffers from jaundice, blood vomiting, abnormal swelling of liver and loss of weight too. Screening is important to avoid cancer-causing chronic conditions. Around 20 per cent of his patients suffer from chronic hepatitis, he added. Doctors said hepatitis A and E are also prevalent, but they are less concerning. They cause mild infections and are commonly seen among children due to the consumption of contaminated food and water.

In alignment with the Sustainable Development Goal 3.3 aiming to combat viral hepatitis by 2030, the state government also annually screens 12 lakh pregnant women for hepatitis B. Newborns with positive hepatitis B pregnant women are provided with hepatitis B immunoglobulin within 24 hours of delivery along with birth dose hepatitis B vaccination.

IT WAS OVER A GIRL, SIX ARRESTED FOR 19-YR-OLD STUDENT’S MURDER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Hennur police have arrested six persons in connection with the murder of a 19-year-old student. Of the six, the main accused is a rowdy sheeter at the Ramamurthynagar police station.

Two other accused, involved in other crimes, will have rowdy sheets opened against them for killing the student.

The murder is said to be over a girl, who was being pursued by the victim’s friend. But the girl was already in a relationship and she told her boyfriend that she was being pestered. The boyfriend contacted one of the accused to teach the victim’s friend a lesson.

The suspects, who came in a gang, caught hold of the victim, Marvesh, to reach his friend. But the friend did not pick up the victim’s calls, frustrating the gang. The suspects then went on to brutally assault Marvesh and told his friend to shift him to hospital.

While getting the victim admitted, his friend had lied to doctors, saying the victim was shifted to hospital as he was vomiting repeatedly. Suspecting his version, the hospital authorities registered a medico-legal case and informed Hennur police.

The arrested are identified as Karthik, Abhishek, Nelson, Rocky, Daniel and Srikanth. The six are reportedly involved in the murder of Marvesh.

“Karthik, is a rowdy sheeter. Rowdy sheets against Abhishek and Nelson will be opened shortly. These three accused are college dropouts,” Bheemashankar S Guled, Deputy Commissioner of Police (East) told the media.

On the day of the murder, Rocky and Daniel picked Marvesh from his college and then handed him to Karthik, Nelson and Abhishek.

Moral policing: Mangaluru cop, wife harassed, two held

ENS @ Mangaluru

A policeman and his wife became the latest victims of alleged moral policing in Dakshina Kannada on Thursday.

Two persons have been arrested in this connection. They allegedly harassed Kumar, the policeman, stating that being a “Muslim” how can he be in the company of women. He was returning to his office after dropping his wife and sister-in-law home at BC Road near Mangaluru at 10 pm, according to Bantwal town police. The accused Manish and Manjunath, who were allegedly in an inebriated state, followed Kumar when he was on his way home to drop his wife and sister-in-law after having dinner at a restaurant. The accused waited near Kumar’s house and waylaid him when he was on his way to office for work. After questioning Kumar for a while, they began abusing him for being with the two women. When Kumar’s wife came out of the house, the accused allegedly abused and misbehaved with her too. They did not stop even when Kumar told them that he is a cop and the woman is his wife, police said. The accused have been arrested on the charges of obstructing a government official from performing his duty, under Sections 341 (wrongful restraint), 504 (intentional insult), 354 D) (stalking), and 354 (A) (advances involving explicit sexual overtures) of IPC.

SIDDU GETS BOOST AFTER CLP MEETING

MLAs, who had written letter, apologise to CM; Siddaramaiah asks them to stop practice of writing letters, says HM

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah got a shot in the arm after convening the Congress Legislature Party (CLP) meeting as he created an opportunity to establish himself as the top leader with his supporters backing him fully. Also, the MLAs, led by Aland legislator BR Patil -- who had written to the chief minister urging him to hold the CLP, apologised to him for writing the letter.

"The chief minister told them it was not proper to write the letter as it looked like a signature campaign and he would have responded to their request even if they had asked him orally. He told them that the practice of writing letters should stop. Telling him that they did not want to launch a signature campaign, they apologised to both the chief minister and KPCC president DK Shivakumar," Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara told reporters in Tumakuru on Friday.

The chief minister assured the MLAs that he will meet district-wise legislators along with district in-charge ministers, Parameshwara said.

Siddaramaiah, during his earlier tenure During between 2013 and 2018 too, had resorted to a similar strategy to sort out the differences among MLAs and consolidated his position, political analysts said. This time, too, he has responded quickly to address MLAs' concerns that ministers were letting them down, they added.

Interestingly, both Patil and former minister Basavaraja Rayareddy, who had signed the letter, are followers of Siddaramaiah. They both joined Congress from other parties.

On Friday morning, former deputy chief minister Laxman Savadi met Siddaramaiah. Meanwhile, PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi, a staunch supporter of Siddaramaiah, issued a statement that he is not in the race for the chief minister's post in the present tenure, indicating that he will back Siddaramaiah as chief minister.

At a time Deputy CM DK Shivakumar said there was a conspiracy to destabilise the government from Singapore, the CLP meeting boosted the morale of Congress leaders and Siddaramaiah, said a senior Congress leader. Siddaramaiah is starting visits to districts from Monday to review the progress, and he is already in Haveri district. His aim is to take control of the bureaucracy amid a cash-for-transfer controversy, as alleged by opposition parties, especially JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy.

Curtains down on Youth Cong meet, members told to work at booth level

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CONGRESS will depend on its cadres, especially from the Youth Congress, to increase its tally in the Lok Sabha after the 2024 elections.

Indian Youth Congress national president BV Srinivas called upon the cadres to work as volunteers in every crisis, whether it is floods or emergencies like in Manipur. Srinivas, who was appreciated for his work during Covid, told The New Indian Express, "In Manipur, we set up a relief camp to support 6,000 affected people for a month.''

He said the party campaign, "Youth Jodo Booth Jodo", has already started in Maharashtra and other places, and it would be taken across the country soon.

Over 15,000 party members who took part in the national Youth Congress conclave in Bengaluru over the last three days were told to work at the booth level and to enlist at least five voters per member across the country. This will strengthen Congress on the ground, he said.

AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge was to take part in the valedictory of the conclave -- Behtar Bharat ki Buniyad. But he could not, as he was caught up in New Delhi.

Among important participants on Friday were ministers Satish Jarkiholi and Laxmi Hebbalkar, Pawan Khera, Alka Lamba and Deepa Dasmunshi.

Each day, approximately 5,000 Youth Congress office-bearers from across the country participated, Srinivas said.

MY TAKE

QUESTIONING A 'CUSTOM-MADE' AVOIDABLE DEATH

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

A traditional custom claimed the life of a one-month-one-day-old baby girl on July 23 due to exposure to the vagaries of nature forced on her and her mother, belonging to the Kadugolla community in Mallenahalli near Tumakuru. It is an age-old custom that mandates menstruating and postpartum-staged women to live in huts, called Golladoddi or Gollarahatti, away from their homes for three days and anywhere between a month and three months, respectively.

There is a belief that if this custom is not followed, it invites divine wrath and social stigma not just on the woman but on her entire family.

Sadly, in this case, the young mother had given birth to twins – a boy and a girl – on June 22, but the baby boy had died soon after being delivered. Despite the death, and the utmost care needed for the mother and the surviving twin, she was forced to follow the custom, exposing the two to cold and rain. The newborn developed a severe infection due to the exposure, and succumbed to it.

The death may be perceived as just another addition to infant mortality figures, but that it was invited due to an age-old custom, makes it as shocking as it can get.

It is not just about the Kadugolla community. Similar practices continue to be followed across communities on the grounds that menstruating women or those in their postpartum stage are considered "unhygienic". They are not allowed to enter kitchens or engage in cooking for fear of "contaminating" the food. Allowing the woman to rest undisturbed (which in many cases is needed, depending on the severity of the condition) is one thing, but forcingthem to stay away – almost like being banished – that too sanctifying it through a 'licence' in the form of a custom and a threat of 'divine retribution' in case of violation, is something else altogether that needs rational attention.

Such practices continue to abound in the modern age. The concerns are aggravated especially because beliefs in such customs are not linked to literacy. These practices are common even among those who present themselves as "educated". So, one can imagine the higher vulnerability of those not so privileged to be adequately literate to these beliefs and customs, and who are likely to leave their destinies and well-being to divine instrumentations while ignoring common sense and logic.

Practices based on customs are born from unwritten rules that become binding and passed on from generation to generation. These are often cloaked with divine reasoning or directions to render them unquestionable – and they remain unquestioned. Not surprisingly then, these persist despite the spread of relevant and accurate information to spread awareness to discourage such practices. The Karnataka Prevention and Eradication of Inhuman Evil Practices and Black Magic Act (also referred to as the Anti-Superstitions Act) has been in force since January 2020.

But all this appears to be ineffective. It goes to show that when customs and superstitions get licences from the 'divine' and the 'supernatural', there is nothing much that government intervention can achieve.

At the political level, apprehensions remain over tackling these beliefs with reasoning. Political parties fear implications on their voter base and adverse poll results. The right to beliefs and the freedom to follow customs-based practices that are potentially harmful remain unchallenged due to this fear ... and sound reasoning is thrown by the wayside in a heap of rubbish.

The early 20th century poem of Rabindranath Tagore "Where the mind is without fear..." is a divine plea for Indians to develop a keen mind filled with reasoning and rationale, envisioning a better future for the people and the country where superstitions and harmful customs would have no place in it. A part of that poem that is most relevant here is, "Where the clear stream of reason has not lost its way into the dreary desert sand of dead habit..."

Maybe, this too is headed for the wayside heap of "rational rubbish"...

Land Revenue Amendment Act gets Guv's assent

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Land Revenue Act (Amendment) Act, 2023, and eight other Bills that were passed in the recent legislature session got the assent of Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot.

The Act was amended to enable the conversion of agricultural land for nonagricultural purposes through self-declaration. "It is considered necessary to further amend Section 95 of the Karnataka Land Revenue Act, 1964 (Karnataka Act 12 of 1964) to give effect to the proposals made in the Budget for 2023-24 and to enable conversion of agricultural land for nonagricultural purpose by way of self-declaration," said a statement.

The Karnataka SCs and STs (Prohibition of Transfer of Certain Lands) Amendment Act, 2023 also received the assent. The non-alienation clause in the land grant rules and the provision for cancellation of grants are found not sufficient to help SCs/STs grantees who have been exploited by affluent and powerful sections. The other Bills cleared were the Karnataka Conduct of Government Litigation Act, 2023; the Karnataka Appropriation Act, 2023; the Karnataka Transparency in Public Procurements (Amendment) Act, 2023; The Karnataka Fire Force (Amendment) Act, 2023; The Karnataka Legislature (Prevention of Disqualification) (Amendment) Act 2023; The Karnataka Co-Operative Societies (Amendment) Act, 2023 and the Karnataka State Road Safety Authority (Amendment) Act 2023.

NICE debate: Jayachandra receives threat calls

ENS @ Bengaluru

FORMER minister and state's special representative in New Delhi TB Jayachandra, who as law minister headed a House committee on the alleged irregularities in the Nandi Infrastructure Corridor Enterprises (NICE) between 2014 and 2016, has been receiving threat calls from unknown persons.

In the recent Assembly session, he had suggested to the government to implement his report. Later, farmers from Bidadi in Ramanagara had approached him to protect their interests. "Last week, I met the farmers at their place on their invitation. But of late, I have been receiving threat calls from anonymous persons. They start talking like farmers, but later issue threats not to interfere on the issue," he told TNIE, adding that his personal assistant had filed a police complaint. "NICE had a provision to acquire farmers' lands to construct the Bengaluru-Mysuru Infrastructure Corridor (BMIC) and peripheral ring road. But it had deviated the framework of the agreement and started developing townships. Now with the Bengaluru-Mysuru Express Highway, BMIC will be of no use," he observed.

3 STUDENTS GET CONDITIONAL BAIL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Udupi

A court in Udupi on Friday granted conditional bail to three female students accused of engaging in voyeurism at a private paramedical college in the coastal town.

The court sought a bond of Rs 20,000 each from the three students and told them to furnish a surety. First Additional Civil Judge and JMFC Udupi Shyam Prakash granted the conditional bail ordering the trio accused to be present before the court on the hearing dates in future.

Advocate Asadullah Katapady, who argued on behalf of the three students, said the girls surrendered before the court and sought bail in connection with the case registered against them at Malpe police station.

An FIR was registered against them under Sections 509 (acts intended to outrage the modesty of a woman), 204 (destruction of evidence), 175 (omission to produce document/electronic record) 34 (common intention) of the Indian Penal Code and Section 66 (E) (capturing, publishing or transmitting the image of private area of any person) of the Information Technology Act on Tuesday night.

"While granting the bail, the court put a condition directing the accused to cooperate with the investigation officer during the investigation process. They also have been directed not to threaten the witnesses," the advocate informed.

HC notice to Siddaramaiah on plea seeking his disqualification as MLA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday issued a notice to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah over a petition challenging his election as MLA from the Varuna Assembly constituency alleging corrupt practices during election campaign by promising to implement five guarantees if voted to power.

Justice S Sunil Dutt Yadav issued the notice after hearing the petition filed by one KM Shankara from Koodanahalli in Varuna Hobli, Mysuru district.

The petitioner, who is a former member of taluk panchayat and president of Basaveshwara Yuvaka Sangha, contended that the five guarantees announced by the Congress ahead of the May 10 Assembly elections amounted to bribery and undue influence under Section 123(2) of the Representation of the People Act.

The guarantees are like offers and promises made by the candidate and the party, the petitioner alleged. They are in the form of gratification to voters of Varuna and with the objective of directly inducing them to vote for the party's candidate, the petitioner added.

The petitioner appealed to the court to declare Siddaramaiah's election as void and debar him from contesting elections for six years under the provisions of the Act.

Derogatory comments on CM: BJP worker arrested

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE High Grounds police have arrested a BJP worker, S Shakunthala alias HS Shakunthala from Tumakuru, on the charge of posting derogatory comments against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Twitter.

She has been released on station bail.

In her tweet which is in Kannada, the BJP worker referring to the Udupi voyeurism incident questioned the CM if the video of his wife or daughter-in-law was recorded in the same way, would it be termed as 'child's play.' The woman questioned the chief minister quoting a tweet from the Karnataka Congress party's twitter handle which termed the Udupi college incident as 'children's play'.

A Hanumanthraya, a 29-year-old Congress worker from Surapura taluk in Yadgir district, had filed a complaint against the BJP worker in the High Grounds police station on Thursday.

The complainant had stated that while he was at the Congress Bhavana on Race Course Road, he was checking the tweets and saw the tweets of the woman which were objectionable in nature. Based on his complaint, the police registered a case of word, gesture or act intended to insult the modesty of a woman under section 509 of the IPC.

Shakunthala had also taken part in a protest in Tumakuru demanding action against the three college students in connection with the Udupi college incident.

A 36-year-old man, whom his wife claimed to have killed two years ago, was traced to Thodupuzha on Friday. On Tuesday, Noushad's wife, Afsana, told the cops investigating her husband's disappearance that she had killed him and buried his body at their rented house in Pathanamthitta district

Union Home Minister Amit Shah at the inauguration of Tamil Nadu BJP chief K Annamalai's 'En Mann, En Makkal' yatra in Rameswaram on Friday | K K SUNDAR

Sonia wants to make Rahul PM, Stalin for son as CM, says Shah

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Rameswaram

UNION home minister Amit Shah launched a scathing attack on the DMK and the Congress on Friday, saying nothing would happen by changing the name of their alliance to I.N.D.I.A.

Speaking at the rally organised to kick-start Tamil Nadu BJP president K Annamalai's state-wide 'En Mann, En Makkal' (My Land, My People) padayatra, the senior BJP leader said the yatra is to unseat the corrupt and dynastic DMK rule in Tamil Nadu. "One tweet by our leader Annamalai is causing an earthquake. Imagine what will happen in a yatra," he said.

Referring to the recent arrest of Minister V Senthil Balaji, Shah said Chief Minister MK Stalin should be ashamed. "Stalin is still retaining a minister arrested by the ED. If Stalin asks for the resignation of the arrested minister, he will spill out all the secrets. That is why Stalin is hesitating to ask for the resignation of the minister," Amit Shah said.

Terming the DMK government as anti-people and corrupt, Shah gave a list of benefits which he claimed Tamil Nadu got under the BJP-led NDA government in nine years and compared them with the Congress-led UPA government schemes.

"Sonia Gandhi wants Rahul to be PM, Stalin wants to make Udhayanidhi CM, Laluji wants Tejaswi to be CM, Mamta Didi wants to make her nephew CM and Uddhav Thackeray wants to make his son CM. They do not want to empower India and Tamil Nadu but want (to empower) their family members. Modi ji is the only leader who thinks for the development of India and Tamil Nadu," Shah said.

Rain claims nine lives in Telangana; 6 still missing

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

The situation on the Vijayawada-Hyderabad National Highway remained the same on Friday as traffic between the two cities came to a standstill as the overflowing Munneru river inundated NH65 at Itavaram village near Nandigama

THE torrential rains and the resultant floods that wreaked havoc across Telangana led to the loss of nine lives - eight in Warangal and one in Khammam, while six others -- four in Warangal and two in Adilabad -- are feared dead after being washed away by the floodwaters.

While the week-long relentless rainfall finally subsided on Friday, the deluge has left around 19,000 people in the State facing untold hardships.

Meanwhile, the water levels started receding in some areas, bringing immense relief to those affected. However, the situation remains precarious.

Heart-wrenching scenes were witnessed in Kondai village of Eturunagaram mandal on Friday after the true extent of the devastation caused by a swollen Jampanna Vagu became evident. While eight villagers lost their life, those who survived lost their worldly possessions to the floods.

The bodies of the victims were retrieved after hours-long intense search operation by officials and rescue teams.

The victims were identified as B Sammakka, Sharif, Nazeer, Mahaboob, Majidi, Rasheed, Kareem Bi, and Bibi. As the gushing waters engulfed the village, the villagers fought desperately to survive, but their efforts were in vain. One heartbreaking sight was the body of one of the victims found hanging on electric wires, evidence of the desperate struggle to escape the deluge

Police book father, grandfather for Kadugolla baby's death

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Tumakuru

THE Kora police on Thursday night registered an FIR against two persons for the death of a one-month-old baby girl from the Kadugolla community.

Baby's father Siddesh and maternal grandfather Chikkahuligappa have been booked under the Karnataka Prevention and Eradication of Inhuman Evil Practices and Black Magic Act, 2017.

Women and Child Welfare Department Supervisor Rajashri R Mang had filed the police complaint on the instructions of Child Development and Programme Officer Shashidhar P.

It is alleged that the baby girl died as she and her mother Vasantha were made to stay in a tent as per the Kadugolla tradition, exposing them to rain and cold winds at Mallenahalli village near here.

Though the Bellavi PHC medical officer and his team had advised the family to shift the baby to a neonatal ICU, the accused left the mother and the baby to fend for themselves in the tent.

The baby girl, who had developed respiratory complications, died on Sunday. Even after the baby's death, the mother was told to stay in the tent.

Judge Noorunnisa, member-secretary of the District Legal Cell Authority, visited the hamlet on Thursday and shifted the mother to her house, warning her relatives that such evil practices should not be followed as they will attract legal action.

DEBATE CRITICAL ISSUES TO KEEP PARLIAMENTARY DEMOCRACY HEALTHY

The decision by the opposition parties to table a no-confidence motion against the BJP-led National Democratic Alliance (NDA) government, even though the ruling alliance enjoys a clear and comfortable majority in the Lower House, is a desperate measure to seek discussion and accountability denied under other parliamentary tools. That the opposition parties had to resort to a no-trust motion to engage the government in an exhaustive debate on an issue of national importance bodes ill for our democracy. Parliament logjam has become a routine affair, with successive sessions getting washed out and the present (17th) Lok Sabha moving towards setting a record of the lowest number of sittings since 1952 when the House was first constituted after independent India's maiden election. Manipur has been on a boil for over two months, with ethnic clashes claiming over a hundred lives, houses being torched and religious places being destroyed. But a recent video from the state showing women being paraded naked by a mob and the reports of them being later subjected to rape has shaken the nation's conscience. The opposition parties have been demanding a statement in the House by Prime Minister Narendra Modi. He has spoken on the issue but outside the House. He has promised the strictest action against the perpetrators.

The cycle of violence in Manipur continues to spiral. The chasm between the two major communities—Meteis and Kukis—has widened so much that the minority Kukis, who were earlier demanding a separate administration for their areas, are now demanding a separate state. The Kukis of Manipur share kinship with the Mizo tribe of Mizoram and the Chins of Myanmar. There have been demonstrations in Mizoram against the Manipur government. Mizoram Chief Minister Zoramthanga took part in one such protest which raised the demand for the resignation of Manipur Chief Minister Biren Singh.

The disturbance in Manipur is not restricted to the state. It has regional and international implications as well. The European Parliament discussed the matter and passed a resolution demanding swift action to return to normalcy. A constructive discussion in Parliament, without further inflaming passions, may help the government solve the vexed issue. Parliament is a forum for debates and discussions which help a parliamentary democracy thrive. The opposition and the government must work out ways to facilitate smooth and frequent sittings and functioning of the Houses.

INDIA NEEDS JOB-RICH ECONOMIC GROWTH

Prime Minister Narendra Modi vowed to position India as the world's third-largest economy if elected for a third term. Assembling evidence, he proudly pointed to how our economy jumped from the 10th to fifth spot in the past nine years, perhaps justifying why a third term will ensure a flying leap to the third spot. India is a $3.6-tn economy at constant prices or over $3 tn in current prices, and critics are quick to point out how Modi missed his 2019 promise of reaching $5 tn by 2025. But in the government's rightful defence, the economy was besieged by a slowdown, recession, pandemic, war and inflation. That's a lot to take for any nation, and India indeed made a robust recovery. Various projections, including by the IMF, now estimate India's GDP to cross $5 tn by 2027–28, overtaking Germany (fourth largest) and Japan (third largest). The projections seem like a nailed-on certainty, not because everyone is guessing in the same direction, but for two apparent reasons: India's steady growth rate and the economic decline of both Germany and Japan.

What will a $5-tn economy, or the world's third largest, entail? According to SBI Research, at least two states—Maharashtra and Uttar Pradesh—will break into the $500-bn club. That is larger than the economies of Vietnam and Norway. But given India's 30-odd states, we must aim for broad-based growth lifting all boats in its swell, sparking job creation and income growth. As per official data, though the headline unemployment rate isn't alarming, urban unemployment remains high, along with a worrying decline in full-time jobs. Of the estimated 150 mn urban workforce, only 73 mn have full-time jobs. Moreover, the youth unemployment rate is steep at about 23% and needs immediate attention as the 15–24 age bracket comprises a significant concentration of the total population.

Although official data shows that India's per capita income has doubled in the last nine years from ₹86,647 to ₹1.7 lakh, there's an unequal distribution of wealth. Median wages are lower in real terms, and there's a widening gap between the rich and poor, especially following the Covid-19 pandemic that has pushed millions back into poverty. We need employment-rich economic growth that supports the ambitions of the working class, not just the capitalist and business class.

QUICK TAKE

LICENCE TO DRIVE

Rarely the Supreme Court finds merit in an appeal challenging its verdict. Its 2017 order considered a transport/commercial vehicle under 7,500 kg unladen weight a light motor vehicle. That meant a personal LMV licence holder could drive an omnibus or a truck without a separate endorsement. But can you drive any LMV because you are licenced? Driving your car differs from driving a bus, where strangers' lives are in your hands, or a truck carrying hazardous substances. Public safety calls for stringent driving qualifications and categorising LMVs per their intended use. A Constitution bench has now sought the government's view.

The World Bank's vision has to be expanded to include a clearer and stronger commitment to the promotion and protection of health at the population level

ENSURING A 'LIVEABLE PLANET' FOR HUMANITY

DR K SRINATH REDDY

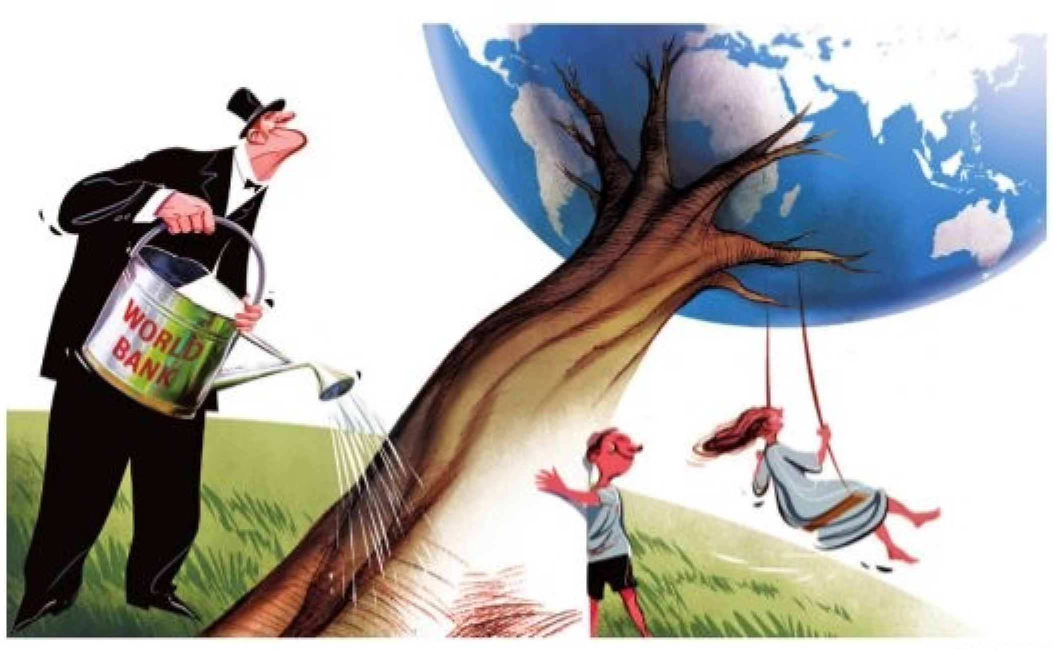
Cardiologist, epidemiologist and Distinguished Professor of Public Health, PHFI



SOUMYADIP SINHA

On June 22, 2023, World Bank president Ajay Banga shared the stage with Barbados Prime Minister Mia Mottley at the Global Citizen Concert in Paris. Attended by 20,000 people, this was part of the Power The Planet event organised alongside the Summit for a New Global Financing Pact, chaired by French President Emmanuel Macron

Calling for justice to countries vulnerable to climate change, the eloquent yet assertive Mottley declared: "Action cannot be taken in some far-off future. In fact it cannot even wait for tomorrow—we need to do this today." She underscored the urgency of this by highlighting the imminent danger posed to her own country by Tropical Storm Bret. Ajay Banga responded by announcing that the World Bank would implement a "debt pause" for countries suffering the effects of a natural disaster. "It gives governments and leaders like Mia a break from repaying their debts so that they can focus on recovery—they should not be worried about paying the bills."

Even more significantly, Banga redefined the mission of the World Bank. In 1973, the then World Bank president, Robert McNamara, stated the mission of the multilateral development bank was to "accelerate economic growth and to reduce poverty". Even now, the two goals listed on the bank's website are: End extreme poverty and promote shared prosperity in a sustainable way.

The preoccupation of the bank with increasing prosperity—with only some attention to reducing extreme poverty—led to an almost exclusive focus on the economic indicators of national and global development, with scarce attention to the social and environmental indices of human and planetary well-being. Dangerously, it also gave licence to private sector activities which were detrimental to the health of the environment and people. National governments, too, became obsessed with chasing economic growth, unmindful of the damage to natural ecosystems and the finely balanced physiological systems of the human body.

In Paris, Banga declared that henceforth, the bank's vision would be to "create a world free of poverty on a liveable planet". Earlier, they focused only on extreme poverty. Now, they say they will tackle all levels of poverty and not restrict action only to extreme poverty. Commitment to actions aligned with environmental protection came strongly in the affirmation of "a liveable planet" as the existential imperative for all of humanity.

What is a "liveable planet"? While Banga did not describe its qualifying features, he prefaced his statement by listing some of the problems faced by the world at present. An unnecessary war in Ukraine was identified upfront. Lack of schools, "decent healthcare" and roads were listed as factors thrusting entire communities into a cycle of poverty. Extreme weather events like floods, droughts and hurricanes were mentioned. He declared that the urgency of the moment demands an immediate response.

The world would have to transcend present challenges and insulate itself against the recurrence of such dangers in the future if the planet is to be deemed "liveable". However, the bank's vision has to be expanded to include a clearer and stronger commitment to the promotion and protection of health at the population level, besides and beyond "decent healthcare" for individuals with disease. Population health is the best summative indicator of success across the 17 Sustainable Development Goals. The goal can relate to poverty reduction, protection against hunger and provision of nutrition security, promotion of education and gender equity, etc., but there is always an intimate and often bidirectional relationship to human and animal health.

Given this understanding, it would be appropriate for the bank to expand its goals to include "increase in healthy life expectancy of all populations in the world and of all socio-demographic groups within each population", apart from eliminating poverty and increasing shared prosperity. Healthy life expectancy is a measure of disease- and disability-free survival and is the best development dividend that nations can gift to their populations. By elevating this to an overarching goal, we can address and assess progress in shaping the many social, economic, environmental and commercial determinants of health.

By doing so, we will set the right priorities for development at global and national levels, and give precedence to climate change mitigation and adaptation measures over deforestation and polluting industries. We will invest more resources in climate-smart and climate-resilient food and agriculture systems, health systems and urban development designs. We will ask ourselves how self-destructive it is to squander 3.5 mn hectares of arable land on growing a water- and pesticide-intensive killer crop like tobacco even as the world faces threats to nutrition security from climate change. We will introspect on why ultra-processed food products and sugar-sweetened beverages (like colas) are using up our precious agricultural produce and potable water—only to ultimately harm both human and planetary health.

Development of well-resourced, digitally enabled primary healthcare systems will promote population health, bring comprehensive and continuous healthcare services home or close to home, be energy-efficient by reducing the need for advanced care and long commutes, while also promoting employment opportunities for women and youth. Promoting local agriculture and food production will be environment-friendly and encourage women's involvement in farming. The long supply chains in healthcare and food systems must be cut short as their contributions to greenhouse gas emissions are high. Multilateral development banks must support such transitions.

Humanity has already crossed seven planetary boundaries, as described by the Stockholm Resilience Institute. Vis-à-vis the eighth boundary, air pollution, we are dangerously close to the precipice. It is time we make protection and promotion of human and planetary health well-being the highest priority in global development. While doing so, the World Bank may wish to consider not only a debt pause for responding to immediate climate emergencies but providing support to long-term debt relief measures so that countries can invest in developing climate-smart and climate-resilient systems for agriculture, food production, health service delivery, and rural and urban development. The climate crisis calls for a corrective response, not just a coping response.

NEP 2020: PM MODI'S MARATHON MISCELLANY

DR S VAIDHYASUBRAMANIAM

Vice-chancellor & TATA Sons Chair Professor of Management, SASTRA deemed University

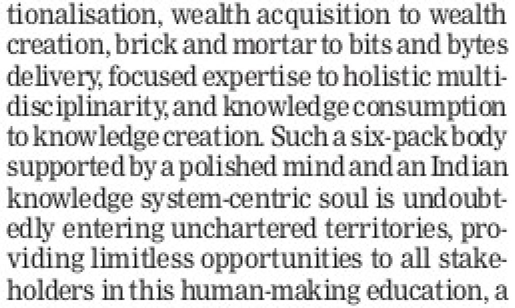
Swami Vivekananda, one of India's tallest spiritual leaders, said, "Education is not filling the mind with a lot of facts. Perfecting the instrument and getting complete mastery of my own mind is ideal education." Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visionary NEP 2020, in many ways, aligns with this noble ideal of education as a human-making mission and not just a certificate-generating machine. NEP 2020 sends a clear message that certificates issued in any form of education are not to exit campus but to enter life. Life is continuous education, and NEP 2020 is not a 100-metre sprint race but an intellectual marathon with many a miscellany. Let us see how NEP 2020 crosses the third year of its long marathon.

"NEP 2020 is an Edu-POKHRAN with a MIDAS golden touch" is how I described NEP during its launch on July 29, 2020. The explosive disruption that it has started so as to bring about transformational Modularity, Interdisciplinarity, Diversity, Accessibility and Sustainability (MIDAS) is a reinforcement of my original words.

When policies rest on terminological populism, NEP 2020 runs on methodological realism, sweepingly impacting school and higher education, skilling and entrepreneurship, and research and innovation. Such a 'trio riot' is a first in the history of edu-policymaking. Not only is the Ministry of Education working overtime to achieve the NEP 2020 outcomes in a progressive mode, but various ministries are also running alongside to ensure that India's edu-marathon reaches the finish line without losing steam. As the nation and the world celebrate the third anniversary of NEP 2020 today, let us trace its evolution so far and the interesting times ahead.

NEP 2020 is India's third national educational policy, with the first being in 1968 when education was in the Union list, and the second in 1986 (PoA 1992) when it was moved to the concurrent list. Three-year-old baby NEP 2020—the third after a long gap of 34 years—is shaping up to be a well-nourished social being that is beginning to develop a strong body, mind and soul. The increasing pace at which the growth trajectory is moving upwards is symptomatic of the Ministry of Education's accelerated response system to Prime Minister Modi's prophetic vision of making the Indian education empire strike back with renewed vigour to regain its lost glory.

In the 'striking back' mode, preparatory work for the implementation of NEP 2020 has ensured that its comprehensive coverage leaves no stone unturned—from pre-elementary schooling to post-doctoral research, basic skilling to advanced vocationalisation, wealth acquisition to wealth creation, brick and mortar to bits and bytes delivery, focused expertise to holistic multidisciplinarity, and knowledge consumption to knowledge creation. Such a six-pack body supported by a polished mind and an Indian knowledge system-centric soul is undoubtedly entering unchartered territories, providing limitless opportunities to all stakeholders in this human-making education, a 'mahayagya of national development' (PM Modi, 2021, on NEP 2020).



EXPRESS PHOTO

In the 'striking back' mode, preparatory work for the implementation of NEP 2020 has ensured that its comprehensive coverage leaves no stone unturned

There are many striking features in NEP, together bringing all possible stakeholders for a marathon journey. These features are: The National Curriculum Framework for schools and National Credit Framework for higher education reinforcing teachers and students as the centrepieces, the push towards mother tongue/Indian language-based education, outcome-based approach in the learning deliverables, the blended approach of online-offline teaching-learning methodologies with room for creativity, globalisation of Indian education through a reforms approach cutting across conventional boundaries and also regaining Indian roots, the innovation-driven hackathons and incubators involving edu-campuses, comprehensive tools for assessment and multilingual translation, the almost-ready National Research Foundation, and a holistic-multidisciplinary approach to education at all levels. These make a 'navarasa' feast for 'learner-epicureans'. With the policy menu ready to be cooked by academic leaders, the upcoming years of NEP will provide an academic fiesta with choice and ease.

One of the transorbital features of NEP's implementation is the active involvement of other ministries, strengthening the arms of the Ministry of Education to make NEP 2020 a grand reality. The schemes of almost all ministries like Finance, Defence, Road Transport and Highways, Communications, Electronics and Information Technology, Heavy Industries, AYUSH, Skill Development and Entrepreneurship, Food Processing Industries, Science and Technology, Health and Family Welfare, Law and Justice, etc., mutually reinforce the larger framework of not only transforming Bharat during its Amrit Kaal but also aligning with the key objectives of NEP 2020.

This level of inter-ministerial patronage to a national policy is unprecedented, and that education has received such overwhelming support enriches India's social infrastructure through its youthful demography. This is an asset that no country can boast of having if NEP's implementation gathers full steam in the years to come.

As the nation celebrates a cerebral policy today, I recall the legendary jurist Nani Palkhivala's words (I twist a little): "Five-year governments have a four-year life to chart three-year plans with two-year bureaucrats preparing a one-year report with quarterly reviews forgetting the problems of the common man which gets solved by him on a day-to-day basis."

NEP 2020 is undoubtedly an exceptional and positive departure from this statement, and I am sure Nani Palkhivala will cheer NEP from his grave. It requires synergistic coherence involving all stakeholders to convert the dreams of a visionary policy into a working reality.

The time has come to rise to the occasion and join hands to nurture the three-year-old baby into a fully grown adult without forgetting that NEP's implementation is not an overnight journey but a marathon miscellany. Let us join the marathon. Jai Bharat.

Citizen's plea

It's really hard to see the situation in Manipur. The parading of the two women, a freedom fighter's wife being burnt alive, people on the streets, the gunshots and bombs. The whole nation is in turmoil and the division in Parliament necessitates discussion. I wish peace prevails in our nation.

G20 meet on climate fails to reach consensus

On issues like scaling up renewable energy, phasing out fossil fuels, especially coal, amid changing weather patterns

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @ Chennai

THE G20 climate and environment ministers' meeting on Friday concluded without a consensus on key burning issues such as scaling up renewable energy use and phasing out fossil fuels, especially coal, amid weather records being shattered across the globe.

According to the World Meteorological Organisation, July this year was the hottest month on record.

While no joint communiqué was forthcoming, only a chair's summary was issued by India, which holds the G20 presidency, and an outcome document detailing the countries' stand on various matters was published. However, after the press conference, Union environment minister Bhupendra Yadav said the member countries agreed on 64 out of 68 paragraphs that were taken up for discussion and claimed to have achieved 95 per cent success.

This meeting was crucial for setting the agenda for the G20 leaders' summit in September in New Delhi. The G20 countries are the world's 20 largest economies emitting greater than 80 per cent of greenhouse gases. They will deliberate on the outcome of a document in the run-up to the COP28 due in Dubai this year-end.

DELIBERATIONS AT THE MEET

- Issues related to mitigation including the findings of the latest IPCC report and global modelled pathways
- The need for a global peaking of emissions no later than 2025 and reduction in emissions by 60% by 2035 over 2019 levels
- Gaps in climate scenarios and models, depleting carbon budgets, historical, current and projected emissions

THE NEED FOR ACTION FOR REDUCING NON-CO2 GREENHOUSE GAS EMISSIONS INCLUDING METHANE BY

2030

Investment requirements in clean energy technologies to reach net zero, as well as for a global transformation to a low-carbon economy

Issue of financing including developing countries' financial needs to implement their NDCs, transformation of the financial systems, Article 2.1c, and Article 9 of the Paris Agreement regarding support from developed countries

While G20 countries have agreed on some critical issues such as reversing land degradation, accelerating ecosystem restoration and halting biodiversity loss and promoting resilient blue economy, there was no breakthrough on drastically scaling up renewable energy use and reach an agreement on phasing out fossil fuels, especially coal.

The outcome document and chair's summary says, "Some countries emphasised the need for global peaking of emissions no later than 2025 and reduction in emissions by 60 per cent by 2035... some members stated the need for reaching Net Zero by 2040 by developed countries. There exist divergent views among G20 members on the issue of energy transitions," the document reads.

Earlier in the day, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who addressed the G20 Environment and Climate Sustainability Ministerial Meeting via video conferencing, said India has led the way through its ambitious 'Nationally Determined Contribution.'

"India achieved its installed electric capacity from non-fossil fuel sources, nine years ahead of the target of 2030. And, we have set the bar even higher through our updated targets. Today, India is one of the top five countries in the world, in terms of installed renewable energy capacity," he said.

Replying to a question from TNIE on the issue of climate finance, Bhupendra Yadav had recalled the commitment made by developed countries to the goal of mobilising jointly $100 billion climate finance per year by 2020, and annually through 2025, to address the needs of developing countries.

"India's stand is clear. Developing countries need finance and technological transfers. The developed countries must fulfill the commitments made in earlier COP meetings. The definition of climate finance must also be made clear."

The outcome document also states that developed country contributors expect (climate finance) this goal to be met for the first time in 2023.

Earlier, COP 28 President Sultan al Jaber and the United Nation's climate chief Simon Stiell had spoken at the Chennai meeting and urged G20 countries to issue an ambitious statement that will make sure the world is on track to keep global warming within 1.5 degree Celsius (2.7 degree Fahrenheit).

In a joint statement, the two climate leaders had said that the outcome from the G20 energy ministers' meeting did not provide a sufficiently clear signal for transforming global energy systems, scaling up renewable and clean energy sources and responsibly phasing down fossil fuels.

They had urged the climate ministers' meeting in Chennai to commit to "more ambitious action across all pillars of the Paris Agreement."

India among top five in renewable energy: Modi

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

INDIA is one of the top five countries in the world in terms of having installed renewable energy capacity, said Prime Minister Narendra Modi, addressing the G20 Environment and Climate Sustainability ministerial meeting on Friday.

Lauding the country's success in the field of renewal energy, the PM said that India has set a target of attaining 'Net Zero' by 2070. Net Zero means cutting greenhouse gas emissions as close to zero as possible.

He said the country has achieved the installed electric capacity from non-fossil fuel sources nine years ahead of the target of 2030.

Quoting Tamil poet Thiruvalluvar, Modi said, "Even the oceans will shrink, if the cloud that has drawn its water up does not give it back in the form of rain."

India has consistently been at the forefront in taking action on biodiversity conservation, protection, restoration and enrichment, and has set the bar even higher through the updated targets, Modi stated.

India has recently launched the 'International Big Cat Alliance' for conservation of seven big cats of our planet based on the learning from Project Tiger.

"As a result of this Project Tiger, 70 per cent of the world's tigers today are found in India," he said, touching up on works being done on Project Lion.

All of India's initiatives are powered by people's participation. One of them is 'Mission Amrit Sarovar', a unique water conservation initiative that is yielding good results. Under this mission, the PM said, more than 63,000 water bodies have been developed in just about one year through community participation with the support of technology.

Modi also spoke about the initiative called 'Catch the Rain' campaign that has yielded a good fruition. "As part of all this, more than 280,000 water harvesting structures have been constructed to conserve water," the PM informed the participants.

India, Japan agree to further business ties

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar on Friday said Japan has contributed to many revolutions in India — the Maruti and Metro had an enormous ripple impact. "The high-speed rail and emerging and critical technology will present many possibilities," he added.

His remarks came during the India-Japan Forum, which was also attended by Jaishankar's counterpart from Japan, Yoshimasa Hayashi.

However, Japan hopes that for furthering cooperation, India would extend support in providing a stable business environment.

"Japanese Prime Minister Kishida set the 5 trillion Yen target of public and private investment and financing from Japan to India in the next five years from 2022. At the same time, we will work together with the Indian government to effectively address the difficulties that Japanese companies face in the Indian market,'' said FM Hayashi, who have come to India for the second time in six months. Hayashi had arrived in March to attend the Quad Foreign Ministers' meeting in New Delhi.

Japan would like to see a more predictable, transparent business environment in India, which includes tax issues. "There are infrastructural challenges too. The Japanese Chamber of Commerce in India has been raising these issues. It is also looking at a way to address them,'' said Yukiko Okano, Deputy Press Secretary of Japan.

She didn't quantify on what percentage of 5 trillion Yen has already been invested in India.

Last month, Japan revised its Development Cooperation Charter, which is their basic document. The new charter would enable Japan to better address development challenges that it faces, including food and energy, climate change and digital transformation.

"Under this revised charter, we will continue to undertake efforts to build quality infrastructure in India, including the high-speed rail and urban transportation,'' Hayashi said.

Meanwhile, the discussions between the two ministers covered wide-ranging issues — from G20 to the Indo-Pacific, Ukraine, China and even partnerships in defence and focus on the North-East.

Dr Jaishankar said that India and Japan can also work together in critical technologies and semiconductor as Japan has a powerful impact on manufacturing in India.

Ukraine and the impact of the conflict on the world were discussed too. "At a time when there are many pressing challenges, including Russia's aggression against Ukraine, Japan and India fully share the necessity to lead the world to cooperation, rather than to division and confrontation. The free and open international order based on the Rule of Law is the key to realising such a world," said Hayashi.

He said "free" means each country is free to make decisions based on its own sovereignty. The Rule of Law is essential for countries to enjoy such freedom. 'Open' means respect for principles including inclusiveness, openness and diversity, explained Hayashi.

The two ministers spoke about enhancing trade and defence ties with a focus on the Indo-Pacific and North-East.

'Weakened' Drugs & Cosmetics Act raises alarm among health experts

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

PUBLIC health experts expressed "alarm" over the "weakening" of the Drugs and Cosmetics Act, 1940, after offences under it was decriminalised in the ongoing monsoon session of the Parliament.

Lok Sabha on Thursday passed the Jan Vishwas (Amendment) Bill, 2023, which amended 42 Central Acts across sectors including health, environment, agriculture, medi and publication. The Bill decriminalised 180 offences, which earlier attracted jail terms and penalties, or both.

However, experts say among the din in the Parliament, the Drugs and Cosmetics Act 1940 and the Pharmacy Act 1948 were decriminalised without much debate. Offences will not attract a jail term now, just a fine.

Dinesh C Thakur, author of 'The Truth Pill: The Myth of Drug Regulation in India', tweeted, "This Bill fulfils a long-standing wish list of the industry that if you suffer bodily harm from substandard medicine, no one will be held punitively accountable. So much for good governance."

The Union Health Ministry reacted, stating that the Act "has not been decriminalised" but "compounding has been offered as a mechanism for resolution of the litigation." It also listed the drugs that will not be covered under the provision.

"The quality of our drug supply, which is poor to begin with, will degrade further. There is no longer a deterrent under the law," Thakur said, adding that India, dubbed as the 'pharmacy of the world' is not presenting a good image to the world.

Prashant Reddy, a lawyer specialising in intellectual property law and drug regulation, said that the health ministry is now saying they are making the offence compoundable. "The aim of bringing the amendment was to classify certain drug-related violations as compoundable offences, which means that anyone held under the charges can be let off after paying a fine. In this case, ₹5 lakh," he said, adding that this means the pharma industry won't have any accountability.

Centre misleading SC on Manipur, says Gogoi

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

A DAY after the Centre informed the Supreme Court that CBI will take over the probe into the Manipur viral video case, Congress leader Gaurav Gogoi demanded that the apex court set up a fact-finding commission to probe huge lapses in the law and order in the state. Gogoi is part of the delegation of 21 MPs of the Opposition alliance INDIA, which is on a two-day visit to Manipur.

Speaking to this newspaper, the Congress deputy leader of the Lok Sabha said that the delegation will visit all communities in Manipur. "Violence is still going on in the state. People are still dying and the situation is still volatile. We hope to meet people in the relief camps and will meet everyone who is affected," he said.

Gogoi said that the government is misleading the court and the public about the situation in the violence-hit state. The Centre has requested the court to direct that the trial be conducted outside Manipur. "There has been a complete breakdown in the law and order situation in the state. How is it that so many police stations were looted and people got access to arms and ammunition? Several women were assaulted. There should be an independent, neutral judicial inquiry into this ghastly episode," he said.

Gogoi on Wednesday moved a no-trust motion against the Modi government in Lok Sabha. "Though the PM speaks about the dignity of women, he has not met any victims of violence in Manipur. He is shedding crocodile tears," he said.

The Centre has been trying to divert attention from its failure to mitigate the situation in the state, Gogoi added.

21-MEMBER OPPN DELEGATION IN MANIPUR

A delegation of 21 MPs of the Opposition alliance INDIA will begin its two-day visit to the violence-hit Manipur on Saturday. The delegation will also meet the Manipur Governor on Sunday morning. The delegation, comprising MPs from 16 parties, will visit the hill areas, the valley and various relief camps. ### 29 CASES BEFORE CONSTITUTION BENCHES

Union Law Minister Arjun Meghwal informed Lok Sabha that as on July 20, 2023, there are 29 cases pending for adjudication in the form of Constitution bench cases. Emphasising that the Central government has no role regarding adjudication and disposal of cases and the same lies within judiciary's domain, the minister said, "Out of the 29 cases, 18 are pending before a five-judge bench, six before a seven-judge bench and five before a nine-judge bench." Answering a question put forth by MP AM Arif, Meghwal said the pendencies are not due to lack of interest in expediting the same. "As per information from the Supreme Court, in respect of the Constitution bench cases, there are intricacies of law involved. Arguments take weeks or months. The said issues require deep analysis and thorough examination of law. Therefore, it is not possible to set out strict parameters or timelines for their adjudication," he said.

India a conductor of semiconductor investment: PM

Centre offers 50% financial assistance to technology companies for setting up semiconductor manufacturing facilities in the country

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@Ahmedabad

INDIA will extend 50 per cent financial assistance to companies for setting up semiconductor manufacturing facilities, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Friday as he rolled out red carpet to semiconductor industries.

Speaking after inaugurating the Semicon India 2023 conference in Gandhinagar, Modi said an entire ecosystem is being established for the semiconductor industry to grow in the country. "We were offering incentives as part of the Semicon India programme. It has been increased, and now technology firms will get 50 per cent financial assistance to set up semiconductor manufacturing facilities (in India)," he said.

India is becoming a grand conductor for investments in the semiconductor sector, he said, adding that 300 colleges in India have been identified for starting courses on semiconductor design. "It is estimated that in the next 5 years, more than one lakh design engineers are going to be produced in our country. India's growing startup ecosystem is also going to strengthen the semiconductor sector," he said.

The PM further noted that because of the nation's rapid expansion in the digital and electronics industries, India is emerging as a major conduit for investments in the semiconductor industry. Underscoring that electricity is required for this sector, Modi said the country's installed solar power capacity has multiplied 20 times in the last decade.

India has set a target for 500 gigawatts of renewable energy capacity by the end of this decade and has taken big steps for the production of solar (photovoltaic) models, green hydrogen and electrolysers, he said.

Modi said his government has done away with many old laws and compliances that were coming in the way of the ease of doing business and has provided special incentives for the semiconductor industry.

"Today the world is witnessing the fourth industrial revolution 'Industry 4.0'. Whenever the world has seen an industrial revolution, its foundation has been the aspirations of people in one or more areas. The earlier Industrial Revolution and the American Dream were linked in this way. I see the same connection between the fourth industrial revolution and Indian aspirations today."

The Prime Minister said that cheap data rates, quality digital infrastructure, and seamless power supply in the villages are burgeoning the consumption of digital products. Be it health, agriculture, or logistics, India is working towards a vision of smart technology usage, Modi said. The PM underlined that the chip-making industry is a market filled with opportunities and expressed confidence that those who begin early are bound to get a first-mover advantage over others.

"All of us have seen the global pandemic and the Russia-Ukraine war impact. India also understands that semiconductors are not only our need, but the globe needs a trusted supply chain partner," the PM said. The Prime Minister said that India understands its global responsibilities and is working on a comprehensive roadmap with friendly countries.

Worrying news for dog lovers in colonies

Keeping a pet dog in the house will not be as easy as before for city residents. Under the new rules of the Dehradun Municipal Corporation, pet canines may be kept only after obtaining a No Objection Certificate (NOC) from your immediate neighbours. As per the new guidelines, pet owners will be necessitated to obtain the NOC at the time of renewing the animal's registration, the failure of which will attract a penalty while the papers will not be extended. Despite the city being home to over 4,000 pet canines, only 37 dog owners have registered their pets with the Municipal Corporation.

Rahul Gandhi to cover more dists in UP in 2nd leg of Bharat Jodo

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

THOUGH the dates of the commencement of second edition of Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra are yet to be finalised, the leaders of UP Congress claim that party's former president would spend substantial time in the state covering more districts in the upcoming leg.

The 2024 Lok Sabha polls will be just a few months away from the second leg of the yatra.

As per the party sources in UP, the route map of the Yatra, which is expected to commence either on August 15, the Independence Day or October 2, the birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, from Porbandar in Gujarat, are being finalised. The Yatra is likely to culminate in Agartala, the capital of Tripura in north-east. "The state leadership of the party and the workers have urged Rahul Gandhi to cover more districts spending more time in UP, which is politically very crucial, during the second edition of his yatra," says a senior Congress leader.

In the first edition, which was began from Kanyakumari on September 7, Gandhi had walked for 136 days. However, he had covered just three districts-- Ghaziabad, Baghpat and Shamli-- of western UP during his two-day stay in the state in first week of January. The yatra had concluded in J&K.

Maha ruckus in House over pro-Hindutva leader's jibe at Mahatma's parents

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA state assembly's monsoon session witnessed ruckus on Friday over the statement of pro-Hindutva activist Sambhaji alias Manohar Bhide, questioning the lineage of Mahatma Gandhi.

The Congress party demanded Bhide's arrest, saying that his statement could spread hatred in the society.

Bhide allegedly made the controversial remarks at an event in Amravati district of Maharashtra. Former Maharashtra chief minister Prithviraj Chavan, while speaking in state assembly, said, "In Amaravati, a person called Sambhaji Bhide made a derogatory remark against the Father of the Nation that could spread hatred in the society. This person must be arrested immediately. How can he roam freely after making derogatory remarks about the Father of the Nation," asked Chavan.

In reply, Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde said the government will look into his statement before taking action against him.

A ruckus ensued in the assembly, following which Speaker Rahul Narwekar instructed appropriate action on the statement raised by Chavan.

Congress MLA and former state minister Yashomati Thakur said Sambhaji Bhide stoke conflict and spread hatred between two communities. She said Sambhaji Bhide is a habitual offender and is known for his obnoxious statements in the past.

"The real place for Bhide is jail. He should not be allowed to roam free because he is dangerous for the society. If we check the past, we will know how he influenced youths to stoke violence. And the BJP has always been seen protecting him. If the government does not take action immediately, we will not allow him to roam freely and spread violence," Thakur said.

Sharad Pawar calls meeting with Congress leaders

Cong revokes suspension of 3 J'khand MLAs in conspiracy case

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

NEARLY a year after the Congress had suspended three Jharkhand Congress MLAs, for allegedly hatching conspiracy to topple the JMM-led alliance government, the party on Friday went back on the order against the trio.

Jharkhand Congress President Rajesh Thakur announced the revoking of their suspension in the state Assembly.

Former legislators Irfan Ansari, Rajesh Kachhap and Naman Bixal Kongari was arrested while they were travelling in their vehicle with 50 lakh in cash in Kolkata's Howrah.

The MLAs were arrested by the West Bengal police on July 30 last year. A day later, on July 31, the AICC issued suspension orders against the three.

Since then, Jamtara MLA Irfan Ansari, Khijri legislator Rajesh Kachchap and Kolebira MLA Naman Bixal were under suspension and left no stone unturned for the withdrawal of the suspension orders.

Bermo MLA Kumar Jaimangal had also lodged an FIR against the trio for making attempts to topple the Hemant Soren-led government. Jaimangal, in his FIR, also alleged that, he was also offered gratification along with a definite ministerial berth to topple the present alliance government of JMM, Congress and RJD.

BJP to contest Raj polls on PM's face, unlikely to bank on state leaders

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

IN its quest to wrest power from the Congress in Rajashthan, the BJP is set to go to the polls without projecting a chief ministerial face, party sources said. The party may apply collective efforts to get back to power with all probable faces for the CM's post working together to wrest power in a mission mode.

A top BJP leader on Friday said that the assembly elections in Rajashthan would be fought and won working with the widely accepted Prime Minister Narendra Modi as the poll mascot of the party. "We will decide after winning the election as to who will helm the government in the state which is reeling under acute lawlessness," said a senior party functionary in an informal chat with the, media.

Party chief JP Nadda is scheduled to go to Rajashthan on Saturday to activate the election machinery with a well-crafted strategy.

Nadda will interact with the party's core group and share tips as to how to oust the Congress from power working with the USP of PM Modi's performance of the last nine years.

"We don't take any election in a very casual way. We work and that's why we win. The strategy varies depending on the electoral situation in a state. The BJP keeps updating its electoral maneuvering taking lessons from every election it goes through across the country," said a senior leader, adding that MP and Rajashthan are first to be won by the party.

He said the BJP is well prepared and in a stronger position to face a tough contest between the ruling Congress and an upbeat BJP in Rajashthan.

When asked if Vasundhara Raje or Gajendra Shekhawat would emerge the party's chief ministerial face, the BJP leader said: "We have to win first and then decide who will lead the state to development." Some sources said that the party is grooming a Union minister for Rajashthan on the basis of his "neutral and higher performance track record in his ministry.

After winning the polls, the BJP may parachute new faces from the Union cabinet. "The hint is that the most probable face is heading one of the important miniseries and maintains a record of being a good performer. He belongs to Rajashthan", said a party source.

Zero infiltration will kill militancy in J&K: Experts

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

THE Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) has revealed that zero infiltration has taken place in J&K till June this year, prompting security experts to say that ensuring zero infiltration will kill the over-three-decades long militancy, as the main source of it is infiltration.

"Militancy thrives on infiltration as militants from across the border come to J&K, carry out their agenda and stage attacks. These foreign militants, after carrying out attacks, either melt in public, get killed in encounters or return to the other side of LoC," Colonel (Retd) Shiv Nandan Singh told this newspaper.

According to Union Minister of State for Home Nityanand Rai, J&K witnessed zero infiltration of militants from across the border till June 30 this year. The MHA data states that 141 incidents of cross-border infiltration were reported in 2019, 51 in 2020, 34 in 2021 and just 14 in 2022.

It is for the first time that zero infiltration of militants has taken place in J&K ever since the eruption of militancy in the region since 1990.

Former J&K police chief SP Vaid said if security forces have reached the point of ensuring zero infiltration of militants into J&K, it means we have achieved a milestone. "Now this zero infiltration has to be ensured in the coming times and there should be no lowering of the guard at the frontiers. Instead, vigil should be stepped up," Vaid said.

He said zero infiltration will kill militancy and terrorism in J&K as ultimately the manpower and equipment come from Pakistan.

"With no manpower, the militancy will die in J&K," Vaid said, adding, "The weapons are brought from Pakistan, youths are being radicalised and drugs are being pushed by these militant groups. If they send weapons and drugs through drones, some will get seized and some go unnoticed. But zero infiltration will have a significant impact on drugs and militancy."

A retired colonel said that Pakistan was under pressure for the fear of retaliation and retribution like Balakote and a surgical strike from India.

"And this time, the retaliation may be different. If the other side knows that retaliation is going to be big and it cannot afford that kind of retaliation, then this stoppage of infiltration is significant," he said, adding, "India has given a clear and strong message to Pakistan."

Army to enhance its personnel count with Mandarin skills

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

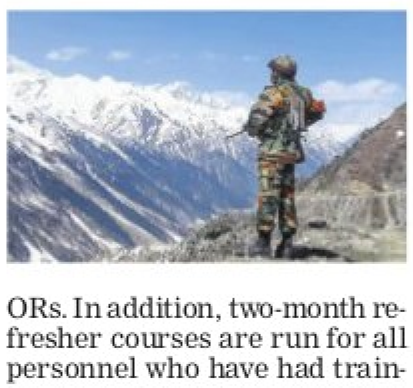
AMID continuing tensions along the 3,488 km long Line of Actual Control (LAC) with China, the Indian Army is planning to further increase the strength of its personnel having Mandarin skills.

Till 2012, the Army was running only one Mandarin course. After the Chinese intrusion in the Demchok region of Ladakh, the courses were increased to two. The Galwan clashes in 2020 led to doubling in Mandarin courses to four. The course count is now expected to go up further. "The planned enhancement is to improve the Army's overall understanding of Chinese soldiers," said sources.

These courses are being run at the Army's Pachmarhi-based Army Education Corps (AEC) Training College and Centre. The intake for each course is 8-10 officers and 30 Junior Commissioned Officers (JCOs) and other ranks (ORs) who get their Master of Arts (MA) degree after they complete it. That apart, the institute conducts six-month courses only for the JCOs and ORs. In addition, two-month refresher courses are run for all personnel who have had training in the Chinese language.



Besides, a select number of officers and other personnel also train at the School for Foreign Languages in New Delhi.

Also, the Army's Northern, Central and Eastern Commands Commands that defend the LAC, run two language courses of six-month duration each year. Each batch has 50-60 JCOs and ORs. In April, the Army's Tezpur 4 Corps headquarters signed a MoU with Tezpur University for a 16-week Mandarin course. Further, capsules of 1-3 months are run for the formations, including the Brigades, Divisions and the Corps deployed along the Northern border to familiarise them with basic Mandarin terms and vocabulary.

LS passes Bill to allow pvt sector to mine lithium

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

IN a move that will open up India's strategic lithium reserves to the private sector, the Lok Sabha on Friday passed the Mines and Mineral (Development and Regulation) Amendment Bill, 2023. The legislation removes lithium, a key raw material used for manufacturing batteries in electric vehicles, and five other atomic minerals from the prohibited category. It also allows the private sector to mine deep-seated minerals such as gold and silver.

Under the existing Act, all 12 atomic minerals are reserved for mining and exploration by state-owned entities. The amendment will open up six atomic minerals — lithium, beryllium, niobium, titanium, tantalum and zirconium — to private players. "These minerals have various applications in the space industry, electronics, communications, energy sector, and electric batteries and are critical in the net-zero emission commitment of India," said the statement of objects and reasons of the bill.

SOLDIERS DECLARE NIGER GENERAL AS HEAD OF STATE

NIAMEY

MUTINOUS soldiers who ousted Niger's president, declared General Abdourahmane Tchiani, the coup leader, as head of state on Friday, hours after the general defended the takeover and asked for support from the nation and international partners.

Amid growing concerns that the political crisis could set back Niger's fight against jihadists and increase Russia's influence in West Africa, spokesman Col. Maj. Amadou Abdramane said that the constitution was suspended and Tchiani was in charge of the nation.

"We can no longer continue with the same approaches proposed so far, at the risk of witnessing the gradual and inevitable demise of our country," Tchiani said. "That is why we decided to intervene and take responsibility." "I ask the technical and financial partners who are friends of Niger to understand the specific situation of our country in order to provide it with all the support necessary to enable it to meet the challenges," he said.

The mutinous soldiers, who call themselves the National Council for the Safeguarding of the Country, later accused some prominent dignitaries of collaborating with foreign embassies to "extract" the deposed leaders. In a statement to state TV, they said it could lead to violence and warned against foreign military intervention.

The coup has prompted mounting concern and Kenyan President William Ruto called the army takeover "a serious setback" for Africa. "The aspirations of the people of Niger for constitutional democracy were subverted by an unconstitutional change of government," he said.

The EU threatened to cut aid to Niamey after what it said was a "serious attack on stability and democracy" in Niger. Human Rights Watch (HRW) warned that rights were at risk after the coup. "The military authorities should promptly provide a specific timeline for the return to democratic civilian rule and uphold the right of all Nigeriens to elect their leaders," said HRW.

Bazoum has not resigned and tweeted Thursday that democracy would prevail. Agencies

COUP-PRONE NATION

The landlocked state is one of the poorest countries in the world, experiencing four coups since gaining independence from France in 1960, as well as numerous other attempts—including two previously against President Mohamed Bazoum

Armed forces chief General Abdou Sidikou Issa swung his weight behind the coup saying it was "in order to avoid a deadly confrontation"

As per Africa Centre for Strategic Studies, the move may have been triggered by head of the presidential guard, General Abdourahamane Tchiani, who was angry for being sidelined

Tchiani presented the coup as a response to the degradation of the security situation linked to jihadist bloodshed. He questioned the scope of a security approach to the fight against terrorism which excludes any real collaboration with Burkina Faso and Mali

The coup was declared by Colonel Amadou Abdramane, who claimed the military was taking power after "the deterioration of the security situation, poor economy and social governance"

Trump faces fresh charges in docs case

WASHINGTON

FORMER US president Donald Trump faced fresh charges on Thursday alleging that he attempted to obstruct the investigation into the mishandling of top-secret documents by conspiring to delete surveillance footage at his Mar-a-Lago property in Florida.

Thursday's superseding indictment accuses the billionaire of acting with his co-defendant in the case, personal aide Waltine "Walt" Nauta, and a new defendant, property manager Carlos de Oliveira, to delete security camera footage.

The fresh charges add to the existing counts of "willful retention of national defence information" and charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice, making false statements and other offenses to which Trump pleaded not guilty last month.

The new indictment recounts a conversation between de Oliveira and a fourth, unnamed employee in which de Oliveira says "the boss" wants the server deleted. It also adds an extra count under the Espionage Act related to Trump allegedly retaining a classified document "concerning military activity in a foreign country."

Trump dismissed the new accusations as "ridiculous." "It's election interference at the highest level," he said, blaming his potential campaign opponent President Joe Biden and the Justice Department for "prosecutorial misconduct."

Trump on Friday also said that he would not end his run for the White House if he were convicted and sentenced in any of the criminal investigations.

Asked by right wing radio host John Fredericks if being sentenced would stop his campaign, he quickly responded, "Not at all. There's nothing in the Constitution to say that it could." "And even the radical left crazies are saying not at all, that wouldn't stop (me)—and it wouldn't stop me either...What they are doing is absolutely horrible," he added. AFP

China to deepen global partnerships: Wang

Beijing: China's Foreign Minister Wang Yi, who replaced Qin Gang this week after his summary dismissal , has said in his first comments that Beijing would deepen its global partnerships while resolutely safeguarding its sovereignty, security and development interests.Wang said China, under the leadership of President Xi Jinping, will deepen global partnerships with win-win cooperation. At the same time, China will resolutely defend its national sovereignty, security and development interests and fully protect the legitimate rights and interests of Chinese citizens overseas, he said in a message posted on the Chinese Foreign Ministry website. Meanwhile, The Chinese government defended its dealings with Russia as "normal economic and trade cooperation" on Friday after a US intelligence report said Beijing possibly provided equipment used in Ukraine that might have military applications. "China has been carrying out normal economic and trade cooperation with countries around the world, including Russia," said Foreign Ministry spokesperson Mao Ning. The latest report cited Russian customs data that showed Chinese state-owned military contractors supplied navigation equipment, fighter jet parts, drones and other goods, but didn't say whether that might trigger US retaliation.

At Russia-Africa summit, Putin woos leaders with promises of business ties

ST. PETERSBURG

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin courted leaders from Africa at a summit on Friday, hailing the continent's growing role in global affairs and offering to expand political and business ties.

Addressing the two-day Russia-Africa summit, Putin said Moscow will closely analyse a peace proposal for Ukraine that African leaders have sought to pursue.

"This is an acute issue, and we aren't evading its consideration," Putin said, emphasising that Russia is treating the African initiative with respect and "looking at it attentively."

He encouraged the African leaders to talk to Ukraine, which has refused to engage in talks until Russian troops pull back. "I believe it's necessary to also talk to the other side, although we are grateful to our African friends for their attention to the issue," Putin said.

He also said Russia plans to expand trade and economic ties with Africa and continue efforts to relieve their debt burden by writing off another $90 million of their debts.

Putin in his speech reaffirmed his pledge that Russia will maintain steady supplies of grain and other agricultural products to the continent.

"Russia will always be a responsible international supplier of agricultural products and will continue to support the countries and region in need by offering free grain and other supplies," Putin said.

Putin hailed Africa's role in the emerging "multipolar world order," noting that "the era of hegemony of one or several countries is receding into the past, albeit not without resistance on the part of those who got used to their own uniqueness and monopoly in global affairs." AP

Indian firms can directly list overseas via IFSC

Currently, overseas listings by firms are done through American Depository Receipts and Global Depository Receipts

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

FINANCE MINISTER UNVEILS NEW INITIATIVES

OVERSEAS LISTING WILL FACILITATE ACCESS TO FOREIGN FUNDS AND BETTER VALUATION FOR INDIAN FIRMS

Currently, overseas listings by firms are done through American Depository Receipts and Global Depository Receipts

Finance Minister launched Corporate Debt Market Development Fund (CDMDF) on Friday

₹30,000 cr
CDMDF is a bailout facility for debt funds.

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman announced, on Friday, Indian companies can list their shares directly on foreign exchanges at the International Financial Services Centre (IFSC) in Gujarat International Financial Tech (GIFT) City.

The decision will enable Public and privately held Indian firms to access foreign funds and get better valuation.

"I had said in May 2020 that direct listing of securities by Indian public companies would be permissible in foreign jurisdictions," she said at an event in Mumbai.

"Now, I am pleased to announce that government has taken a decision to enable direct listing of listed and unlisted companies on the IFSC exchanges. This will facilitate access to global capital and result in better valuation for Indian companies," she added.

The provisions for direct overseas listing were approved by the government, as part of the Covid relief package announced in May 2020.

Currently, overseas listings by domestically listed entities are done through American Depository Receipts (ADRs) and Global Depository Receipts (GDRs). Also, only listed companies are allowed to issue depository receipts which can be listed in foreign markets.

A senior government official present at the event said that the rules for direct overseas listing of Indian companies will be notified in a few weeks.

Initially, domestic firms will be allowed to list on the IFSC, and later, they will be permitted in specified seven or eight foreign jurisdictions.

The Finance Minister inaugurated the AMC Repo Clearing Ltd. (ARCL) and launched Corporate Debt Market Development Fund (CDMDF) for the development of the corporate bond market in India.

The ₹30,000 crore fund will function as an entity on standby and will provide stability to the corporate bond market during times of financial stress through asset purchase mechanism. Its function will involve purchasing investment-grade corporate debt securities when debt markets face a crisis.

The move is likely to bolster the confidence of mutual funds and investors in the corporate debt markets while also improving secondary market liquidity in corporate debt securities. SBI Funds Management will serve as the investment manager of the CDMDF.

With the aim to develop the corporate debt market in India, the government in the Budget 2021-22 announced developing a Backstop Facility for corporate debt securities.

CENTRAL BANK RETAINS KEY INTEREST RATE

Japan's central bank on Friday kept its benchmark interest rate unchanged at minus 0.1% but said it will fine-tune its bond purchases to allow greater flexibility. The Bank of Japan (BOJ) said it will offer to buy 10-year government bonds at 1% each business day, instead of the upper limit of 0.5% that was imposed under its 'yield curve control program. It added that extremely high uncertainties for the economy and prices required a more nimble approach than its previous policy. The country's apex bank aims to keep long-term interest rates near zero. As the US Federal Reserve and other major central banks have raised interest rates to curb inflation, the BOJ has been under pressure to adjust its policies. The country's inflation rate has lagged those in the US. and Europe but is now over 3%, adding to those pressures.

REPORTS 1.45% GDP GROWTH FOR Q2

The gross domestic product (GDP) of Taiwan rose 1.45% for the second quarter of the year, which was 0.37 percentage points lower than an earlier forecast of 1.82%. According to the Directorate General of Budget, Accounting and Statistics (DGBAS), the lower-than-expected growth was on account of weaker exports and investments. However, the economy improved its performance from the first quarter when it registered a fall of 2.87%. The country's merchandise exports reported a 16.97% year-on-year decline in the first quarter in US dollar terms. However, a rebound in foreign arrivals boosted the country's service imports. Taiwan's exports of merchandise and services during the April-June period tumbled 6.58% from a year earlier, which represented a 1.33 percentage point fall from the previous forecast, the DGBAS said., The country's imports of merchandise also fell 23.97% from a year earlier in the second quarter in US dollar terms. Net exports contributed a fall of 0.21 percentage points to Taiwan's GDP growth in the second quarter.

Market sees minor correction on profit-booking

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

THE spectacular rally of the domestic equity market since late March appears to have taken a break as the local benchmarks - BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty - closed in red 5 times in the past six trading sessions.

The Sensex is now down over 2% since its all-time high of 67,619 while the Nifty50 is struggling to breach the 20,000 market after hitting a high of 19,992 last Thursday. The 30-share pack on Friday shed 107 points to settle at 66,160, while Nifty50 fell 14 points to end the day at 19,646.

> It is too early to say that the rally has ended as short-term predictions are impossible to make. Profit bookings are normal in markets. A near 16% rally in Nifty from March lows has given lots of profits to investors
>
> V K Vijayakumar, chief investment strategist at Geojit Financial Services

"It is too early to say that the rally has ended as short-term predictions are impossible to make. Profit bookings are normal in markets. A near 16% rally in Nifty from March lows has given lots of profits to investors. So, at current high valuations, profit booking is a normal rational response," said V K Vijayakumar, Chief Investment Strategist at Geojit Financial Services.

Last week Nifty was trading above 20 times FY24 estimated earnings, a valuation level that made many to question the fundamentals.

According to Vijayakumar, an important factor that triggered the mild correction in markets is that FPIs, whose sustained buying during the last three months triggered the rally, have turned sellers during the last two days having sold stocks worth around Rs 5,000 crores.

Amar Ranu, Sr. VP & Head - Investment products and Insights, Anand Rathi Shares and Stock Brokers, said that the recent ferocious market return was a one-way movement, and one should not see the psychological Nifty level of 20,000 or 21,000. The equity investment is a long-term story over 5+ years which one should stick to. The market levels going up or down is a continuous phenomenon and we should not read much into it, added Ranu.

The minor correction, according to experts, can also be attributed to mixed Q1 results where the IT pack has reported abysmal numbers. Stocks such as Infosys, HCL Technologies and Tech Mahindra have crashed 8-13% in the last 10 days. Global cues have also turned hostile as US bond yields and crude oil prices are on the rise.

Additionally, better-than-expected US Q2 GDP data has impacted sentiments as it suggested the likelihood of another rate hike by the Federal Reserve.

BYD may pull out of proposed $1 billion investment as it faces govt scrutiny

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

CHINA'S automobile giant BYD has reportedly told its India joint venture partner, Hyderabad-based Megha Engineering and Infrastructures, that it would shelve plans for a new $1 billion investment to build electric cars after its investment proposal faced scrutiny from Indian government officials.

As per a Reuters report, in the initial review of the proposal submitted by BYD, officials from three Indian ministries, including finance and external affairs, raised what two Indian officials described as security concerns about investment from the Chinese company and signalled opposition.

It was not immediately known whether BYD will have second thoughts, and as of Thursday BYD had not formally withdrawn the investment proposal from government review. BYD, China's largest EV maker, declined to comment on the development.

If BYD pulls out from its proposed investment, it would be the second Chinese automaker to do so. China's largest sport utility vehicle (SUV) manufacturer Great Wall Motor Company, which had announced its entry into the market in 2020 with $1 billion investment, pulled out after failing to obtain foreign direct investment (FDI) licence.

Earlier this month, BYD was said to have proposed a $1 billion investment in India to establish manufacturing facilities for EVs and batteries. BYD, which competes with Tesla in the global electric car market, already has a presence in India, where it sells Atto 3 electric SUV and e6 electric sedan. Currently, BYD has a facility in Tamil Nadu. BYD's raised interest in Indian market as Tesla is again gearing up to enter the local market. After Prime Minister Narendra Modi's recent visit to the USA, Tesla officials have resumed talks with the Indian government.

Javelin thrower Jena's personal best at Sri Lanka meet

India's Kishore Jena produced a personal best of 84.38m to win the men's javelin throw competition in Sri Lanka's National Athletics Competition on Friday. Jena's performance — a meet record — was the 10th best this season worldwide and second in Asia, behind Neeraj Chopra (88.67m). Shivpal Singh won silver with 77.36m. Seema won the women's 10000m final.

Curious case of Poovamma & her return

Star quarter-miler takes part in international competition with confusion hanging over ineligibility period

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

IN an interesting turn of events, India quarter-miler MR Poovamma, who had been handed an extended two-year period of ban last year, seemingly from June 16, 2022 (as per NADA), figured in an international tournament. The National Anti-Doping Agency's website still says "2 Years Ineligibility w.e.f 20.06.2022 (Increase ban period)", which means she is eligible to compete only in 2024. However, Poovamma, a multiple medallist at the Asian Games and the Asian Athletics Championships, competed in 400m heats at the 101st National Championships in Sri Lanka.

The Athletics Federation of India (AFI) has officially confirmed that Poovamma has been cleared by the NADA. "The NADA has sent us an email where they said her ineligibility period is over and she can compete," said AFI. Poovamma featured as an unattached athlete. The AFI also said that she has served her period of ineligibility and they would not have sent her if not cleared by NADA. "She went for a review and she was cleared," said AFI, adding the NADA website apparently is not updated as yet. Even Shivpal Singh has got clearance after review.

When India is under scrutiny after the Operation Carousel of WADA, this could turn into a sore point for NADA. Poovamma's case was well reported, especially when she was handed an additional two-year ban. As on Friday, even the World Athletics' anti-doping arm Athletics Integrity Unit website under the Global List of Ineligible Persons also says that she is banned until 20.06.2024.

The Anti-Doping Appeal's Panel (ADAP) had rejected an earlier order of the Anti-Doping disciplinary panel (ADDP) that suspended her for three months from 20.06.2022. The athlete, who is an integral part of the 4x400 relay team, had tested positive in an in-competition test during Indian Grand Prix I on February 18 in 2021 at Patiala. She challenged the positive case and the ADDP handed her a three-month ban after hearing. The NADA then appealed against ban to the ADAP. According to the order (dated 16.09.2022), the NADA submitted that "ADDP has granted reduction of penalty under Article 10.6.1 without assigning any cogent reason and without adhering to any rational normal/rule/guidelines." She tested positive for Methylhexaneamine, a specified substance under World Anti-Doping Agency prohibited list.

After hearing both sides, the ADDP said in its oder: "We are of the considered opinion that the Appellant has committed an ADRV under Article2.1 of the ADR. Once the presence of the prohibited substance is established in the body of the athlete and no exculpatory or mitigating circumstances exist, the natural consequences under the ADR follows. Therefore, we set aside the impugned order dated 16.06.2022 as passed by Anti-Doping Disciplinary Panel and allow the appeal NADA and consequently impose a sanction of 02 years under Article 10.2.2 ineligibility upon the Athlete." Though the order doesn't say from which date but the "List of appeal disposed of by the Anti-Doping Appeal Panel" on the website says her ban period starts from June 20, 2022.

It is understood that the ban period could have been from the date the sample was collected (18.02.2021) and not from the day the ban was imposed (20.06.2022 by ADDP). Eyebrows were raised when there was delay in Poovamma's case. It took almost 17 months for ADDP to hand sanction. She had also contested that she returned positive for using immunity booster "bedtime latte" during the Covid-19 pandemic. She also spoke about a nasal drop. She also could not prove that any of the supplements was the source of geranium that contained MHA.

It will be interesting to see how the WADA reacts.

Swimmer Nina Venkatesh in action

Swimmer Nina is ready for Asiad

KALYANI MANGALE @Chennai

EARLIER this month, at the Senior National Aquatic Championship in Hyderabad, Nina Venkatesh medalled in five events. In two of those, she broke the national record. Days after this achievement, she became part of India's squad for the Asian Games in China, the largest contingent ever from India.

"The team is almost double what was participating in 2018," Monal Chokshi, general secretary of the SFI said after the squad announcement. Eleven swimmers were there at that time. We have 21 swimmers and out of that also, we have nine girls, which is also our first since 2006. We are delighted that all the swimmers are progressing and they achieved the qualification benchmark." Nina is one of the nine female swimmers. "It was something I was looking forward to," Nina said, speaking about breaking the 50m butterfly record at the Nationals."I got the best Indian performance in that event. It was a goal for the past few years. For the longest time, that record was at 28 seconds. I'm also the first woman in India to ever do it in 27 seconds," a jubilant 17-year-old told this daily. Even after reaching the milestone, she couldn't celebrate her win because that event was on the first day of the meet, and she had more to concentrate on. "I couldn't celebrate that much after 50m butterfly. I had to keep going because I had three more days left. But once I broke the 100m butterfly record, I was ecstatic. I called my parents and sister to celebrate with them."

With her performance in the Nationals, where she represented Karnataka, Nina booked her tickets for the Asian Games. "Honestly, being part of the Asian Games was just a dream, nothing but a dream. And it would have been an idea in my head before I got to know about my selection. This is the biggest thing that has ever happened in my career. And I cannot wait to represent India," she added.

In Bengaluru, Nina has been coaching under the Dronacharya Award winner coach, Nihar Ameen, since 2011. "He is a great coach. He has been coaching me for 12 years now. I have never practiced in any other pool. He has seen me grow up in the Dolphin Academy and a lot of credit goes to him," Nina paid tribute to her coach. At just 17, Nina has already made it to the Asian Games as one of the youngest squad members. When asked if she ever misses out on all the fun people her age are having, Nina is not hesitant in her answer. "I'm missing out on so many normal experiences, but my experiences are not normal at all. I'm grateful for the opportunities. I am also aware that one can't have everything in life," she said. With the biggest-ever swimming contingent at the Asian Games in China, there are more opportunities for India to bring medals back home. And don't be surprised if the 17-year-old is one of them.

India's Lakshya Sen in action against Koki Watanabe of Japan on Friday | AFP

Lakshya in semifinals; Satwik-Chirag ousted

AGENCIES @ Tokyo

ACE Indian shuttler Lakshya Sen progressed to the semifinals to be the lone Indian survivor at the Japan Open Super 750 badminton tournament following the ouster of compatriots HS Prannoy and doubles pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy here on Friday. World number 13 Sen registered a 21-15, 21-19 victory over local player Koki Watanabe, ranked 33rd, to make his third successive semifinals, following his exploits in Canada and the United States. The reigning Commonwealth Games champion will play fifth seed Indonesian Jonatan Christie in the semifinals.

World number 10 Prannoy too could have joined Sen in the last four but he squandered an opening game win and a 7-1 advantage in the second to eventually suffer a heart-breaking 21-19, 18-21, 8-21 loss against world number one Viktor Axelsen of Denmark.

Men's doubles duo of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty too went down fighting 15-21, 25-23, 16-21 to Olympic champions Lee Yang and Wang Chi-Lan of Chinese Taipei to end their 12-match winning streak.

The Axelsen vs Prannoy duel lived up to the expectations with the two producing some mindboggling rallies.

Prannoy, who had beaten the Dane twice in the last three meetings, slowly fought his way back to clinch the opener and also conjured up hopes of an upset as he raced to an overwhelming 7-1 lead, only to run out of steam in the end.

Kaur can only play if India reach Asian Games final as teams get direct QF entry

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

INDIAN women's cricket team captain Harmanpreet Kaur will only be able to play in the Asian Games if her team reaches the final of the mega event starting September 23 in Hangzhou. Four teams in both men's and women's events — India, Pakistan, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh — will be directly playing from the last eight stage, courtesy the ICC T20I ranking on June 1. All the matches will have official T20I status.

Harmanpreet Kaur

Harmanpreet, who has been slapped with a two-match ban for her public outburst after an ODI game against Bangladesh recently, is ineligible to play the quarterfinal which will surely be against an associate nation followed by the semifinal against a full member nation.

Even the Ruturaj Gaikwad-led men's team has got a direct entry into the quarterfinal on the basis of its ICC T20 ranking on June 1. The men's event will comprise 18 teams while women's event will have 14 outfits.

The women's competition will start on September 19 and end with the gold and bronze medal matches on September 26. The men's event starts on September 28 and the final will be played on October 7, two days after the men's ICC 50-over World Cup starts in Ahmedabad.

Will Indian men's team join contingent a bit late?

If the Indian cricket team qualifies for the final, it will have to play on three back-to-back days — October 5 (quarterfinal), October 6 (semifinal) and October 7 (final). In all likelihood, India's quarterfinal will be against a second-string Afghanistan or Bangladesh team, as the first teams of both nations will be in India during that time for the World Cup.

It is unlikely that the men's team will be reporting to the Games Village before the opening ceremony as there will be nearly two weeks time before their campaign starts. Also the BCCI hasn't yet confirmed whether the cricket teams will stay in the Games Village or at a five-star facility in the city.

Broad and Smith share honours on even day

AFP @London

STEVE Smith's 71 helped Australia recover from a batting collapse as the tourists frustrated England by establishing a first-innings lead in the fifth and final Ashes Test at The Oval on Friday. Australia were eventually bowled out with what became the last ball of the second day for 295, 12 runs ahead of England's 283.

It looked as if England would enjoy a sizeable advantage as veteran seamer Stuart Broad sparked a slump that saw Australia decline from 115-2 to 185-7. But Smith and Australia captain Pat Cummins (36) kept England at bay with an eighth-wicket stand of 54.

And off-spinner Todd Murphy — recalled to the side following last week's rain-marred drawn third Test at Old Trafford — added to England's woes with a sparkling 34 that belied his position of No 10.

England's Mark Wood (C) celebrates with Ben Stokes (L) and Stuart Broad (R) | AFP

BRIEF SCORES: England 283 in 54.4 ovs vs Australia 295 all out in 103.1 ovs (Smith 71; Woakes 3/61).

Cummins eventually holed out off part-time spinner Joe Root, with rival skipper Ben Stokes throwing the ball back in over the rope at long-on to complete a fine catch.

Australia, as the holders, are assured of retaining the Ashes at 2-1 up, and only need to avoid defeat at The Oval to secure their first Test series win away to England in 22 years.

The tourists resumed Friday on 61-1, with Usman Khawaja 26 not out and Marnus Labuschagne, fresh from his hundred at Old Trafford, unbeaten on two.

Australia's position in the series means they have no need to replicate England's risky 'Bazball' batting approach.

But they arguably veered too much in the opposite direction during an attritional morning session, scoring just 54 runs in 26 overs for the loss of Labuschagne.

The No 3 himself took a further 59 balls to score just seven more runs before edging express fast bowler Mark Wood, with Root holding a brilliant one-handed catch diving to his left at first slip.

Smith upped the tempo with two superb straight-driven fours off successive Anderson deliveries and at lunch Australia were 115-2. But Broad, whose 167-Test career has been notable for dramatic wicket-taking bursts, soon reduced Australia to 127-4. He had Khawaja, the leading run-scorer in the series, lbw with a full-length delivery that ended a stay of 157 balls despite the batsman's review. Broad, who had made his name in Ashes cricket with a return of 5-37 at The Oval in 2009, became the first Englishman to take 150 Test wickets against Australia.

Pak get NOC, to reach Chennai on August 1

THE Pakistan hockey team has got the green signal to travel to India for the upcoming Asian Champions Trophy slated to be held in Chennai from August 3. Pakistan Hockey Federation (PHF) secretary Haider Hussain confirmed on Friday that the Sports Board has got the NOC from the ministry of interior.

The contingent will leave on Tuesday via the Wagah border and travel to Amritsar from where they have been booked on a domestic flight for Chennai. Haider said they were still awaiting visas for three officials including the newly appointed consultant of the national team, Shahnaz Sheikh. The PHF earlier this month named Shahnaz as the senior consultant of the team. Shahnaz, a celebrated hockey name, was the head coach when Pakistan lost the Champions Trophy final in India in 2014. Haider said they were confident of getting the visas on Monday. Visas for the rest of the players and officials had already been issued by the Indian High Commission.

Pakistan are scheduled to play their first match against Malaysia on August 3. They will lock horns with India on August 9. Malaysia are set to land in Chennai on Saturday morning while other teams including China will arrive in the next day or two.

WOMEN'S WORLD CUP

China edge Haiti 1-0 to stay alive despite going down to 10 players

AP @ Adelaide

DESPITE playing with 10 players for more than an hour, China defied the odds to secure a 1-0 victory over Haiti on Friday in its second game of the Women's World Cup. Forward Wang Shuang scored her first-ever goal at a World Cup in the 74th minute, converting a penalty after VAR ajudged her teammate Zhang Linyan was fouled in the area.

This victory marks the second time in Women's World Cup history that a team has won with 10 players on the field, with the previous occurrence taking place in 2011. After a relatively uneventful opening 28 minutes, the game changed dramatically when China midfielder Zhang Rui received a red card for a tackle on Sherly Jeudy. Zhang was initially given a yellow card but, after VAR review, the decision was changed to direct red. The Steel Roses were forced to play with 10 players for the remainder of the match.

The one-player advantage allowed Haiti to gain the upper hand, especially following the introduction of Melchie 'Corventina' Dumornay at the start the second half. Dumornay nearly opened the scoring in the 53rd minute, but her right-foot shot from close range was pushed over the crossbar by China goalkeeper Zhu Yu.

With Haiti committing additional players forward, China capitalized on the available space and Zhang Linyan was brought down in the box. VAR was again involved with an initial offside decision being reversed and a penalty kick being awarded. Halftime substitute Wang Shuang sent Haiti goalkeeper Kerly Th'us the wrong way for the game's only goal.

Haiti thought it had a lifeline when it was initially awarded a penalty kick of its own in stoppage time, but VAR reversed the decision. China will now stay in Adelaide, Australia for its last group-stage game against England. Haiti will travel to Perth to face Denmark. Both games are scheduled for Tuesday.

SYDNEY: Lauren James scored after six minutes of her first start at the Women's World Cup on Friday as European champion England beat Denmark 1-0. 96%
1.33 billion people in India exposed to hazardous levels of PM2.5

MANOJ VISWANATHAN @Kochi

A WHOPPING 96% of Indians are exposed to hazardous levels of pollution, says a study published by Nature magazine in its latest edition. Also, India and China, the world's two most populous countries, have the highest absolute population exposure to unsafe air pollution.

Air pollution is one of the leading causes of health complications and mortality worldwide. According to the study conducted by Jun Rentschler and Nadezda Leonova, the lower income group, who live in areas with unsafe levels of air pollution, are more vulnerable to its negative consequences.

The study that documents the relationship between ambient air pollution exposure and poverty in 211 countries and territories is based on the World Health Organisation's (WHO) revised fine particulate matter (PM2.5) thresholds. It found that globally, 7.3 billion people are directly exposed to unsafe average annual PM2.5 concentrations, 80% of whom live in low- and middle-income countries.

Around 716 million of the world's lowest income people (living on less than $1.90 per day) live in areas with unsafe levels of air pollution. Air pollution levels are particularly high in lower-middle-income countries, where economies tend to rely more heavily on polluting industries and technologies. Poor air quality has been shown to be responsible for over 4 million deaths each year from outdoor pollutants and 2.3 million deaths from indoor air pollution, says the study.

The report says that the world's two most populous countries— China and India—have the highest absolute population exposure to unsafe air pollution and is home to about 38% of all people exposed to unsafe concentrations of PM2.5. In India, 1.36 billion people (99% of the population) are exposed to unsafe PM2.5 (over 5 µg/m3 ); and 1.33 billion (96%) to hazardous levels (over 35 µg/m3). Of the 716 million living in extreme poverty and exposed to unsafe levels of air pollution, almost half (48.6%) reside in India, Nigeria, and the Democratic Republic of Congo. With over 202 million, India has the highest number of people living in extreme poverty and exposed to unsafe PM2.5 levels, corresponding to 14.7% of its overall population.

However, Indian environment scientists are of the opinion that poverty and air pollution cannot be correlated in Indian circumstances. "There are more wealthy people living in metros like Delhi and Mumbai where the pollution level is high while the marginal farmers in Indian villages live in clean air zones. It is a fact that the air pollution levels are high in third world countries like India and China.

The pollution levels are high in India as regulations are not stringent," said Mahatma University vice chancellor and environment scientist C T Aravindakumar.

According to him, India experiences more fog as it is located close to the equator and the temperature remains high throughout the year. "The impact of air pollution is a long term cause for mortality, but there will be other contributing factors also. So we can't correlate air pollution with mortality rates. It is a fact that the rich are less exposed to air pollution due to difference in working conditions. Besides, the air pollution threshold in India is different from WHO standards. While the WHO has fixed the PM2.5 threshold at 5 micrograms per cubic metre, the threshold in India is 40 to 60 micrograms," he said.

It is a common belief that world's environmental burdens fall on the shoulders of the poor and not the rich whereas both the rich and poor are breathing the same air, said Nansen Environmental Research Centre, principal scientist Bindu G.

"For the poor, the same air pollution level means increased health risks compared to higher income group, as the effects of air pollution are compounded by poverty risk factors such as limited access to clean resources, higher exposure to pollutants, and increased vulnerability to health. The poor are more vulnerable to the impacts of pollution, as low-paying jobs are more likely to require outdoor labour, which increases people's exposure to pollution," she said.

"Limited access to healthcare, combined with higher exposure to pollution sources, leads to higher rates of respiratory diseases, cardiovascular problems, and increased mortality rates, which perpetuates the cycle of poverty. Industrial plants are placed in low-income neighbourhoods, so air pollution will be higher in these areas. Air pollution also creates an economic burden through decreased productivity and increased healthcare costs, reinforcing poverty. Overall, air pollution worsens inequalities and disadvantages...," said Bindu.

The biodiversity park developed within the premises of the RCD Government Hospital in Vizag

GETTING INVOLVED
DR MANTHA RAM MURTY

USHA PERI @Vizag

NESTLED within the heart of Visakhapatnam is the Dolphin Nature Conservation Society, which showcases what walking the eco-consciousness talk is all about.

Under the guidance of Dr Mantha Ram Murty, the society became a flourishing biodiversity park within the premises of the RCD Government Hospital.

In 2001, Dr Murty, a marine biologist and former professor along with his wife Mangathayi, laid the foundation of the society. Through the collective efforts of dedicated volunteers and students, an abandoned wasteland was transformed for good.

This vibrant botanical garden that unfolds like a living tapestry is the first ex-situ (conservation outside their natural habitats) bio-diversity park in Andhra Pradesh, and the sixth in India, having more than 2,000 species of plants, most of them rare and endangered. The park comes alive with a harmonious dance of hundreds of butterflies and birds, infusing the air with a symphony of colours and melodies.

The park serves as an living exploratorium where students from all walks of life embark on an enchanting journey of discovery. Within its humble three-acre span, a mesmerising diversity of ecosystems awaits – from the lush embrace of a forest to the serene beauty of aquatic realms, from the timeless allure of desert landscapes to the fascinating presence of Jurassic plants. Delicate orchids grace the grounds, while sacred groves echo with ancient reverence. The park's verdant canvas also reveals a treasure trove of medicinal, herbal, and even insectivorous plants.

"This biodiverse stands as a living testament to the power of collective efforts in safeguarding our planet's ecological balance. Young minds have the opportunity to immerse themselves in nature's wonders, gaining hands-on knowledge about the delicate balance of ecosystems and the importance of conservation...," Dr Murty said.

"In a world where everyone is focused on delivering lectures and merely spreading awareness, a crucial question arises: Who will step forward to take meaningful initiatives and actively save the environment?" questioned Dr Murty. He decided it was up to him to lead from the front.

'HAPPY TO MOVE ON FROM DAVIS CUP'

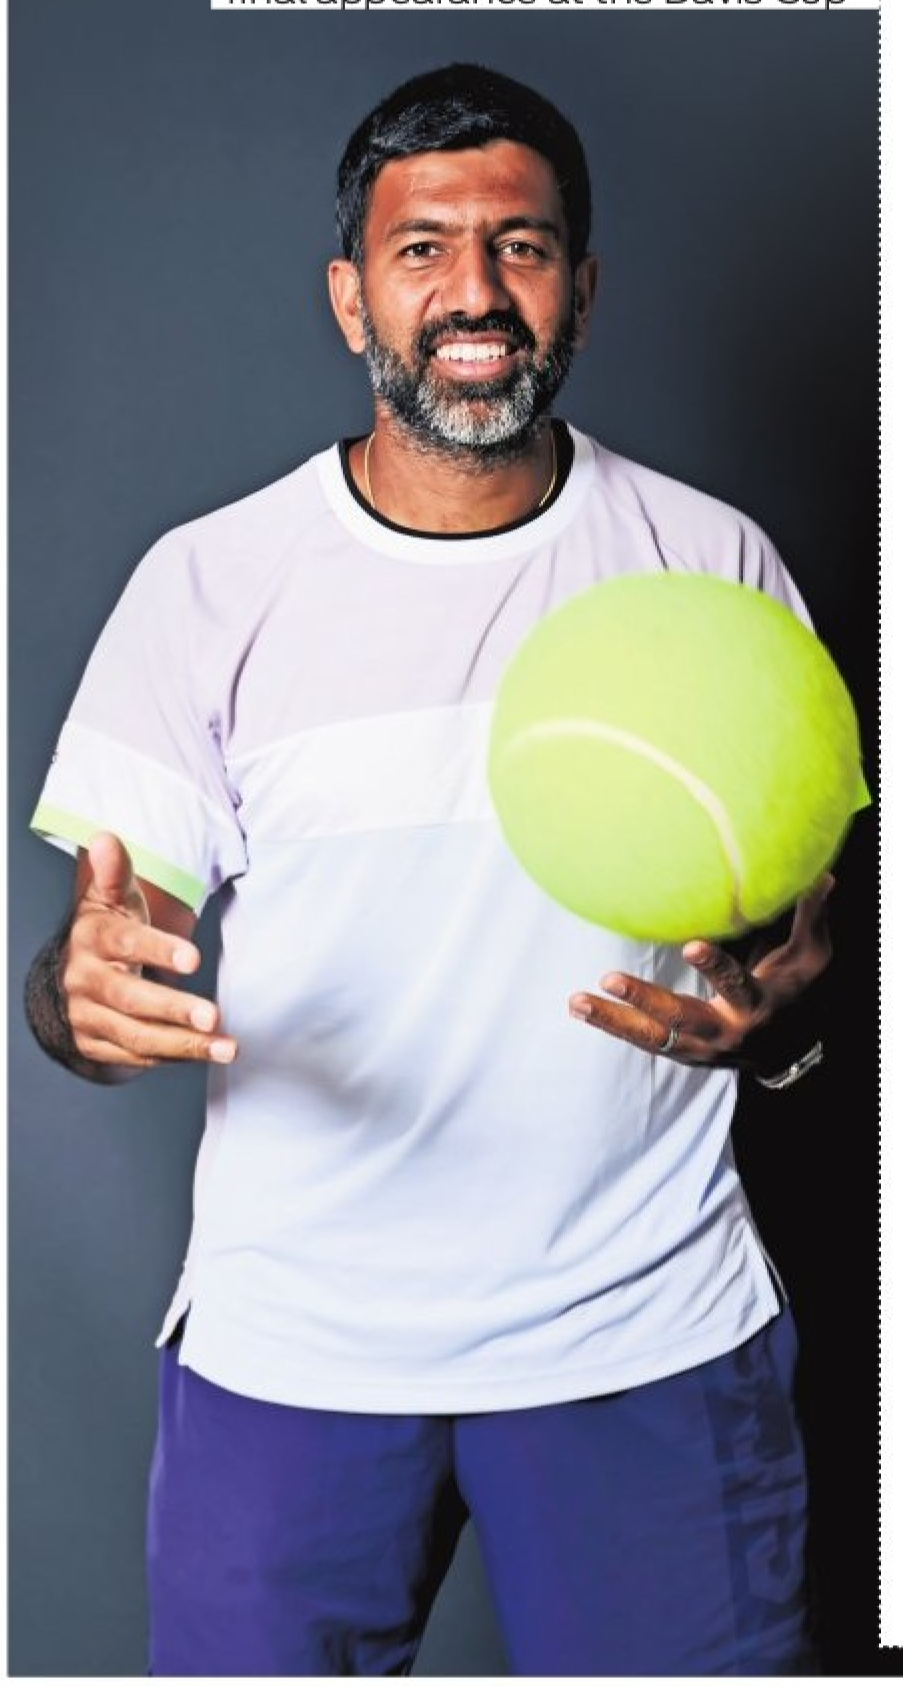
City's tennis ace Rohan Bopanna and his wife Supriya Annaiah talk about his successful stint at Wimbledon '23, maintaining a high level in sport and his final appearance at the Davis Cup



TUNIR BISWAS

WHILE it is undoubtedly true that Indian tennis ace Rohan Bopanna is in the twilight years of his sporting career, a quick look at his recent achievements denotes he is still far from being finished. The 43-year-old, in the recently-concluded Wimbledon, reached as far as the semi-finals in the doubles category with his partner Australia's Matthew Ebden. Getting to the final four of a major at his age is pretty unprecedented. But the laurels don't end there. Bopanna also rose to no 7 in the ATP rankings for doubles, the first time he reached the number since 2013.

Bopanna says the experience at Wimbledon was 'fantastic'. "Especially since last year, I did miss Wimbledon. They did not have any ranking points last year, so I decided to skip the event. It's one of the events which I think every tennis player wants to play. It's a mecca of our sport. And Matt (Ebden) and I had a pretty successful season so far. We had some tough matches in the beginning, and I think fighting through that was a tremendous achievement for us," shares the Bengalurean.

Supriya Annaiah and Rohan Bopanna

Regarding making it into the top 10 rankings, Bopanna elaborates, "It's really good to be back in the top 10. Especially with the way I've been playing. I think the Grand Slams make that difference. You can achieve big points in major events like Grand Slams and Masters. This year, that's what we have done. And I think it has really shown the difference," he says.

The pressure of maintaining a high level in sport gets harder as you age, and support from loved ones is crucial. Supriya Annaiah, Bopanna's wife and a practising psychologist, explains, "I don't work with him as a psychologist. Ethically, I can't and personally don't cross that boundary. Each athlete's needs and requirements from their spouse varies. So when I started travelling with him on the tennis tour 12 years ago, it meant understanding his world from scratch, but it was also very freeing – to be able to customise our partnership to pay attention to his needs and performance, while I get to honour my needs and individuality too." She adds, "Tennis is a sport that demands a lot out of an athlete on and off the court to be at a particular level – I've witnessed Rohan go through the grind of it. So when I cheer for him on and off the court, it is equally (sometimes more) for the man he is behind what he does professionally."

Annaiah believes that the need for an athlete to maintain their mental health is pertinent now, but there isn't much awareness around it in India when it comes to sport psychology. "There are courses that are being offered, and professionals are being churned out in India. However, in sport, there isn't enough awareness and practice in a place where physical health is given attention at par with mental health despite knowing that both go hand in hand. Athletes need to know that they don't need to reach a tipping point to seek help," says Annaiah.

This year, unfortunately, is the final time Bopanna will play in the Davis Cup in September, a tournament he has been playing since 2002. "One of the main reasons I decided to stop playing Davis Cup is because I know, this is one place where if I stop, another Indian will be able to take my place. It's been a long career representing India in the Davis Cup, over 20 years. So, I'm very happy to move on and am very happy that I can bow out of the cup in India," concludes Bopanna, adding that the one thing that helped him was to have short-term goals.

Travelling exhibition on sushi to be held

The Japan Foundation will be holding a travelling exhibition called 'I Love Sushi' between August 5 and 20. Touring the world in the form of a mobile museum dedicated to sushi, this exhibition uses sushi, one of the most recognisable symbols of Japan, to present the rich food culture of Japan. The outline of the exhibition includes a beginners' guide to sushi, sushi during the Edo Period, the modern sushi culture and a sushi experience. Bengaluru, 28 July 2023

Tata Tele Business Services (TTBS), one of India's leading B2B digital and cloud solutions provider, hosted its flagship event- 'The Do Big Forum', a platform where experts from across the industry come together and share their learnings and experiences on leveraging technology for business growth.

The forum showcased insightful discussions on the end-point security, the evolution of security products, and the challenges faced in the ever-expanding cybersecurity landscape. Participants gained valuable insights into the necessity of advanced security tools and the concept of zero trust service offering with End Point Detection and Response (EPDR) solutions. The forum highlighted the key imperatives of the WatchGuard Cloud Platform in seamless end-point management, empowering organizations to protect against emerging cyber threats effectively.

Sharing his views on the subject, Mr. Kalidas KS, Vice-President, Tata Teleservices said, "Endpoint security is of paramount importance for enterprises due to the ever-evolving threat landscape. With the increasing reliance on interconnected devices, endpoints stand as potential entry points for cyber attackers seeking unauthorized access to valuable data and networks. Robust endpoint security measures, equipped with advanced technologies, provide a formidable defense against diverse threats, from malware to advanced persistent threats (APTs). As a leading enabler of connectivity and communications solutions for businesses, TTBS remains committed to empowering them with cutting-edge technologies that fortify their defences against emerging threats. With our focus on delivering reliable smart tech solutions, we endeavour to provide organizations of all sizes with enterprise-grade security solutions, safeguarding their growth and success in this digital age."

The keynote speaker, Mr. Midhun Das, Consultant from Round Robin Tech Services Pvt Ltd, addressed the audience during the Do Big Forum with profound insights into the significance of end-point security solutions amidst the ever-evolving cybersecurity landscape. The key points centred around the importance of end-point security solutions, addressing organizational challenges, and the adoption of advanced technologies to enhance cybersecurity resilience. The discussion emphasized the company's robust product portfolio encompassing essential security offerings such as UTM, Secure Wi-Fi, Multifactor Authentication, and End Point Security.

Key benefits of robust endpoint security measures include :

Mr. Kalidas KS,
Vice - President, Tata Teleservices

Data Protection and Privacy: Endpoint security solutions play a crucial role in securing sensitive data stored on endpoints. Encryption, access controls, and data loss prevention mechanisms ensure that only authorized users can access confidential information, reducing the risk of data leaks or theft.

Protection against Varied Threats: Endpoint security measures provide comprehensive protection against a wide range of prevalent and sophisticated threats, including malware, ransomware, phishing attacks, and zero-day exploits. By employing advanced threat detection and prevention mechanisms, these measures safeguard devices from potential breaches, ensuring the safety of sensitive data and systems.

Enhanced Incident Response and Remediation: In the event of any security breach, robust endpoint security measures aid in swift incident response and remediation. Real-time threat detection and automated response capabilities allow security teams to isolate affected endpoints, contain the threat, and initiate remediation actions promptly, minimizing the impact of the attack and reducing downtime.

Mitigation of Insider Threats: Endpoint security includes features such as behaviour monitoring and user behaviour analytics, enabling the identification of suspicious activities, if any, by employees or insiders with access to critical data.

Compliance Assurance: Strong endpoint security measures help organizations meet strict regulatory requirements regarding data protection and privacy, reducing the likelihood of non-compliance penalties and potential legal consequences resulting from data breaches.

Overall robust endpoint security provides a solid defence against cyber threats, protect sensitive data, ensure compliance with regulations, and bolster the organization's overall security posture, contributing to a safer and more resilient digital environment.

TTBS is enabling a 'digital-first' ecosystem for businesses to become digitally agile with innovative and reliable solutions that help them maintain smooth operations in a flexible, scalable, and secure manner. Besides comprehensive Cybersecurity solutions, its Smart Business Solutions portfolio comprises of Smartflo CCaaS suite, an advanced cloud communication suite integrated with omni-channel capabilities, SmartOffice- a one-box start-up kit with voice, data, apps, storage & much more, Smart Internet Leased Line with built in cloud security, SD-WAN iFLX an intelligently flexible solution for network optimization. ■

BRIC-A-BRAC!

Kanchan Achpal, Shaheen Amrolia and Manjusha Maheshwari

RUBINATIONS

Rubi Chakravarti

Writer, actor and funny girl

I've had friends visiting from different parts of India and they love our ooru's weather. But, they hate the traffic snarls, the lack of utilities, the water stagnation (in fact two of them were here to support family members infected by dengue), and the abysmal state of our civic services. I tried to put up a brave front and bluster away what was the stark truth, but in vain. Unfortunately for us ooruians, the hot tea and pakoras have to be at home; that too if your basement isn't flooded!

But one has to be resilient. Both my kids have flown the coop. That leaves us, the 'married too long' couple on our ownsome. Luckily our social calendar was packed, so we traversed over hill and dale (read Whitefield), wearing our dancing shoes (as ordered) to celebrate dear friend Biren Ghose's birthday. This gregarious country head of Technicolor in India is an irrepressible singer, performer and dancer. A popular and fun-loving individual, he is a favourite with his friends who were all there to celebrate with him and his family. We spent the night catching up with old friends, bogeying drinking and eating. Ah! My kind of party!

When my friend Kanchan Achpal or 'Cookie', (a nickname that epitomises her sweet nature) calls, I respond. As a young and dynamic CMO, she was instrumental in the opening of Cumulus, a new upmarket restaurant on the rooftop of the breathtaking Museum of Art and Photography. A beautiful space and venue where first, one may take a leisurely stroll viewing the scintillating artefacts and paintings and ultimately settling down at the rooftop-rendezvous to enjoy a glass of wine and some great repast. I love it when projects are thought through and this one sure is! Everything about Cumulus had an avant-garde vibe.

I was invited to The Taj West-End to hear my absolutely favourite author/historian, Amitav Ghosh, in conversation with the 'champagne-leftist' (as he likes to refer to himself), Raghu Karnad. I was over the moon as I sat with a small group of book aficionados hanging on with rapt attention at his every word! His fascination with the 'redflower', the deceptively pretty poppy and his explication of its impact on civilisation, history and its people is beyond exhilarating. Sometimes it's a blessing to feed the soul and cerebral cortex!

I've noticed that sometimes friends that I bump into on a regular basis have gingerly started inquiring after my diabetes usually at dinner! I don't blame them because when good friend Sachin Maheshwari, GM of Grand Mercure called to have a Kashmiri dinner with him…how could I refuse? Needless to say the dinner was a 'greet and eat' affair, as we heartily dove into the delectable Wazwan meal. The simple chefs (especially flown down for this occasion) delighted on enlightening us about the nuances of this cuisine. I was overcome with an achingly familiar taste and smell of the 'valley of flowers'.

Toast & Tonic has always been a fave watering hole with some 'gourmet pub-grub'. They have now introduced gourmet burgers and small bowls of 'crunchy-munchies' that go very well with their signature cocktails. We found ourselves sipping cocktails and sharing burgers with an eclectic group of mostly young, hep and trendy people.

And I felt completely at home!

A flavourful and heartwarming trip down memory lane

RATING 3/5

ACHAR & CO
Director: Sindhu Sreenivasamurthy
Cast: Ashok, Sudha Belawadi, Sindhu Sreenivasamurthy, Jagadishwar Sukumar

A SHARADHAA

THE first glimpses of Achar & Co will make you step back in time to the bygone era of the 1960s and the early 70s. The atmosphere, delicately constructed by director Sindhu Sreenivasa Murthy, brings to life the essence of family unity and resilience, along with the struggles of a large, traditional household, all set in old Bengaluru. The period drama opens up with a collection of Suprabhata tunes from a vintage 1960s radio, setting the nostalgic tone, except that it brings a change in its lyrics. The plot is set against the backdrop of Madhusudhan Achar's (Ashok) dream life as a government civil engineer, and his wife Savithri (Sudha Belawadi) who has a family with ten children (3 sons and 7 daughters). The first few episodes capture the chaos of a household with a dozen people around, reflecting the challenges faced by parents in raising children, providing them with education, and arranging their life settlement, including getting their daughters married. However, each one, with their dreams and aspirations, is set to carve their own unique paths in life.

Suma, portrayed skillfully by Sindhu Sreenivasa Murthy, handles both the directorial reins and the protagonist's role, adding a personal touch to this heartwarming tale. She is someone who thinks out of the box from the rest of her family and yearns for a life abroad and settling with a well-educated partner. However, destiny has other plans in store. As the narrative progresses, the film becomes a little more serious as the ambitions of these youths turn into a weightage of responsibility. Will Suma, who takes everything in her stride, succeed in her endeavour? Will the pickle, a recipe unique to their household, become an enterprising aspect of her journey, boosting her self-confidence?

The 1960s was a time of changing dynamics, especially for women who broke stereotypes, and the film strives to bring out this era of progress and industrialisation. It also talks about issues like domestic violence, dowry, etc., and follows a girl who bravely faces such plagues as it sheds light on the challenges faced by middle-class girls in the 1960s concerning marriage and job choices. While certain scenes, like the uproarious five-star hotel and wedding sequences, tickle the audience's funny bone, there are also subtle scenes in the story that may be disturbing. The film evokes humour at many intervals but equally underlines the emotions, brushes with a love story, and makes it a light-hearted entertainer.

Ashwini Puneeth Rajkumar, through her PRK Productions, has set out to give a platform to new talents. The young Sindhu Sreenivasamurthy, along with a well-equipped technical team primarily consisting of women, has done a commendable job in bringing the story of the 1960s to the screen. With Sindhu taking the lead, every character in the film has its uniqueness and importance. However, actors like Ashok and Sudha Belawadi have played such roles before. Achar & Co comes with its little flaws, which can be overlooked. At times while watching the film, it came across as a good stage play, which is reflective of their theatre background.

Art director Vishwas Kashyap's efforts to depict the story from the 1960s to the 1970s are visible in every frame, with dialogues by Trilok taking us back to namma Bengaluru of those times in a realistic manner. The evocative music, including nostalgic songs and a fitting background score by Bindumalini, and Abhimanyu Sadanandan's cinematography immerse the viewers in the era's distinct charm.

Achar and Co delves into essential themes such as women's empowerment, family bonding, and self-reliance, as it provides a glimpse into the life of a woman in that era. While the film can be a delightful ode to the past, it also raises a pertinent question... Have things really changed?

KOUSALYA SUPRAJA RAMA
Director: Shashank | Cast: Krishna, Milana Nagaraj, Brinda Acharya, Nagabhushan, Rangayana Raghu, and Sudha Belawadi

A REFRESHING TAKE ON 'REAL MEN' AND WOMEN'S RESILIENCE

RATING 3.5/5

A SHARADHAA

KOUSALYA Supraja Rama is a film that instantly reminded me of director Shashank's words that said the film delves into the subject of male chauvinism and the eye-opening experiences that men often go through. The movie sheds light on what he has heard, experienced, and witnessed in his family and among his friends. As I watched the film, I was starkly confronted with the harsh reality it portrayed, which immediately resonated with the situations prevalent in every middle-class household. Being a woman, it struck a chord with me and related back to my own personal experiences.

Basically, the film challenges the traditional notions of masculinity and offers a guiding path for men to evolve beyond centuries-old prejudices. Despite being a family entertainer, the movie carries a compelling and powerful message aimed at the male audience, which is meticulously crafted to effectively communicate this message to women too.

The story begins when Santhu (Nagabhushan), who is actively engaged in the process of finding a bride, receives a call informing him that his cousin Ram (Krishna) is admitted to the hospital. As he rushes to the hospital, the narrative unfolds through his vivid and engaging narration, keeping the entire conversation in the film lively and moving.

The film opens with Ram's father, Siddegowda (Rangayana Raghu), exemplifying deeply ingrained biases against women, which, unfortunately, also shape Ram's behaviour. Siddegowda is a man driven by male ego, and he insists that his son follows the path he deems appropriate. This becomes evident when he vehemently objects to Ram playing the role of Draupadi in a school play. Ram's mother Kousalya shows immense resilience and strength as she faces her husband Siddegowda's frequent outbursts and tantrums. Despite the challenges posed by his chauvinistic attitudes and demands, she strives to maintain harmony within the household. Ram, upon entering college, remains entangled in his male ego and is unwilling to befriend any women. However, he eventually meets Shivani (Brinda Acharya), whom he falls deeply in love with. Shivani becomes the catalyst for a significant change in Ram's perspective.

Unfortunately, their relationship takes a downturn when, one fateful day, Shivani witnesses a glimpse of the 'real man' that resides inside Ram—a reflection of his chauvinistic upbringing. She decides to break up with him, but Ram finds himself sulking for an entirely different reason. Tragedy strikes soon after when Kousalya, his mother, passes away.

In the midst of grief and soul-searching, Ram makes a life-altering decision to marry the girl, Muthulakshmi (Milana Nagaraj) his mother had chosen for him, without even meeting her. This pivotal moment puts the tale of the "real man" to the test, as Ram confronts his own biases and beliefs.

Shashank's earlier movies often revolved around family dramas with romantic elements. However, Kousalya Supraja Rama breaks away from his typical style, presenting a fresh and unique storyline. In an industry frequently criticised for promoting male chauvinism, the director takes a distinctive perspective by portraying the idea of a 'real man' from a woman's viewpoint. The film sheds light on the negative impact of male superiority on the lives of many girls. Shashank artfully handles this crucial subject with a cheerful touch of humour, making it a must-watch for families seeking both enjoyment and thought-provoking themes.

Darling Krishna's portrayal of his character in two shades mirrors the reality of many households in society and his performance adds depth to the movie. Despite having worked together many times before, Milana Nagaraj and Krishna showcase their acting prowess once again with their distinct chemistry. Milana's character is compelling as she strives for personal growth and faces the challenges imposed by her parents in her journey to become a doctor. Her portrayal is convincing and she effectively utilises her screen time.

Brinda Acharya's portrayal of Krishna's love interest is mature and perfectly suits the college girl's character. Actor Nagabhushan deserves special recognition for bringing life to the serious topic of the film. His delivery of punch lines and expressive acting add a delightful touch to the overall experience. Rangayana Raghu portrays the role of the protagonist's father with adept skill. Sudha Belawadi's performance as his wife adds a sentimental touch and soul to the story, well-supported by the rest of the cast.

The songs by Arjun Janya are well-placed and meaningful, while the background music enhances the melodrama. Cinematographer, Sugnaan masterfully captures the emotions up close, perfectly suiting the film's requirements.

Kousalya Supraja Rama depicts a reality that resonates with almost everyone's home in society, dispelling the illusion behind notions of men and masculinity. The movie takes a strong stance in challenging traditional beliefs and offers a guiding path for men to evolve beyond centuries-old prejudices. Despite the potential to become preachy, Kousalya Supraja Rama remains a total entertainer.

Old-Bollywood fun with new-age sensibilities

RATING 3/5

ROCKY AUR RANI KII PREM KAHAANI
Directed by: Karan Johar
Starring: Ranveer Singh, Alia Bhatt, Shabana Azmi, Jaya Bachchan, Dharmendra, Tota Roy Choudhury

KARTIK BHARDWAJ

WATCHING *Rocky Aur Rani Kii Prem Kahaan*i is like experiencing a Ranveer Singh embrace. It makes its way towards you when you least expect it (Barbie and Oppenheimer are still playing in theatres). At times it feels unwarranted (Karan Johar making a family drama again? Why?). It might chase you if you try to escape it (We all have a friend who has pre-booked our tickets). You get into it with a bit of reservation, some hesitation. "It won't last long," you tell yourself. But then a warm, fuzzy feeling settles in, and before you know it, it has been over two hours.

Karan Johar, after exploring love trios and quadruples (Kuch Kuch Hota Hai, Student of the Year and Ae Dil Hai Mushkil), returns to the director's chair after seven years, this time, to tell a family-iar tale. If your imagination is wacky enough, Rocky Rani... is Kabhi Khushi Kabhie Gham... with Robbie ("Movie tonight?") in the lead and Nandini Raichand (Jaya Bachchan) as the evil one. Bachchan plays Dhanalakshmi Randhawa, matriarch of the Randhawa clan. She rules with an iron fist which might be shaping laddoos on the side (they have a sweets empire). Although the family has named their sprawling mansion "Randhawa Paradise", it's a suffocating hell for its members. By way of a monochrome flashback, we are told that Dhanalakshmi married Kanwal Lund (pronounced: loond), played by Dharmendra, hoping to inherit his family's sweet business. Kanwal turns out to be a romantic who finds more solace in verse than in trade. A determined Dhanalakshmi takes over the business and the family, names her son Tijori (Aamir Bashir) in view of her bourgeoisie beliefs and keeps him away from the influence of his father. After an accident confines Kanwal to a wheelchair and gives him amnesia, Dhanalakshmi takes free reign. There is no space for emotions or artistry in the Randhawa household.

Rocky (Ranveer Singh), son of Tijori and Punam (Kshitee Jog), is the loud-mouthed, blingy, scion of the Randhawa family. After his "bade papa" Kanwal mutters the name 'Jamini', Rocky suspects an old fling. Jamini (played gracefully by Shabana Azmi) turns out to be Rani Chatterjee's (Alia Bhatt) grandmother. Love sparks between the younglings as they sneak out the oldies for meetups. Rani realizes her love for Rocky is deeper than his low-cut shirts, but the bhadralok Chatterjees are in stark contrast to the rustic Randhawas. Based on a logic that doesn't feel odd in Joharverse, they decide to live with each other's families for three months to convince them of this union. A live-in with kin, if you may.

Karan returns to celluloid with glitter guns-blazing, chiffon sarees-swaying charm. Rocky Rani... offers an extravaganza of a bygone Bollywood, updated with modern sensibilities, with enough coherence to keep it afloat. In between the boisterous Punjabi humour and the larger-than-life canvasses, Karan manages to introspect. It's almost as if the director is purging for his sins. A plump sibling doesn't transform into a Greek god by the second half but decides to not marry and instead focus on her career. Rocky gets schooled by Rani's mother Anjali (Churni Ganguly) on racism and the taboo surrounding women's lingerie. Although Karan's depiction of the Punjabi Randhawas and the Bengali Chatterjees is all forms of cliché (they have a Rabindranath Tagore painting in between bookshelves), there is something raw and novel this time in his portrayal of family ties. Most of Rocky Rani... feels like a questioning of patriarchy, of set gender norms, of joint families shackling desires and dreams. Writers Ishita Moitra, Shashank Khaitan and Sumit Roy pen a script that updates the Karan Johar palette of fam and glam and makes it more palatable for a modern audience.

The deftness of Rocky Rani..., however, lies in its casting. Ranveer Singh plays an over-the-top hunk who expresses with his blitzy clothes (In a scene his car's green colour matches with his jacket). Alia's Rani talks about feminism and liberating women (In a cheeky sequence, she even asks Rocky who is the President of India). Jaya Bachchan's Dhanalakshmi is cold, stern and judgmental. Shabana Azmi's Jamini falls in love with a shayar. Dharmendra plays a cute, old grandpa who is an innocent presence for the entirety of the film. On the other hand, Aamir Bashir, Tota Roy Choudhury, Churni Ganguly and Kshitee Jog fit well in the big Bollywood vehicle.

Although Rocky Rani... at times does dip itself too much in syrupy melodrama, it springs up whenever it gets dreary.
